Delight as waste site given a reprieve

A BURNTWOOD councillor has praised 'People Power' after the town's tip was saved from closure for a third time.

Staffordshire County Council had planned to close Burntwood Household Waste and Recycling Centre in a bid to save £310,000 a year as part of £100 million of service cuts.

The authority argued residents using the tip at Ring Road, had easy access to neighbouring sites in Cannock, Lichfield and Rugeley.

A petition was launched against the plans, which were due to go before the council's cabinet but were withdrawn at the last minute.

Action

Labour county councillor Sue Woodward said the move was down to campaigners for quickly responding to the rallying call.

She said: "This is good news and beyond and a sign that community action in Burntwood is alive and well."

It is the third time plans to close the site have been put forward and the third time that we have won the arguments, so People power has won again."

She added: "The case for closing the Burntwood site might have looked tempting but the reality on the ground just didn't reflect what the report said."

Plea made for extra drivers

VOLUNTEER drivers are being sought to take elderly residents to appointments.

A spokesman for Support Staffordshire Cannock Chase, which operates the Community Transport scheme, said they were looking for more people willing to give a few hours of their time each week.

Community Transport is available for trips to the hospital, doctors clinic or retailers. To help, call Julie Horobin on 01889 584843.

EXTRA MARKET DAY CONCERNS

Report by Charlotte Lilley

STALLHOLDERS have hit out at a decision to allow an outdoor market to trade an extra two days this Easter Bank Holiday.

Traders at Cannock Indoor Market are able to sell their wares every Tuesday, Friday and Saturday but have been competing with an outdoor market one day a week since it was set up five months ago.

The Friday market was launched by Bescot Promotions and comprises 20 stalls selling crafts and goods in Market Place. Council chiefs have granted them permission to trade an extra two days for this week only, today (Thursday) and Saturday.

Melvyn Taylor has been running Melvyn's Butchers for almost 25 years. He said: "This is one of our busiest times of the year but it will be difficult for us to sell our products if the outdoor market is there."

"I understand everyone has to make living but if people spend all their money outside, they will not come indoors."

"On average our trade is down by around £600 a day so this is just another kick in the teeth."

Last month dozens of traders signed a petition demanding the market, which was set up to help the struggling town centre, be scrapped.

Slumped

It was presented to councillors asking them to look at its effect on their businesses. More than 40 stallholders say sales have slumped by up to 50 per cent because they claim traders are selling the same kind of items.

Carpet trader John Baker said: "I am losing thousands of pounds and I am putting it down to the outdoor Friday market."

"Nobody comes in here anymore because they see everything being sold outside and a lot of the stuff is similar. It's killing us off."

The council said it was opening both markets for extra trading and wanted to remind customers the indoor market would be open as usual.

Cannock's indoor and Prince of Wales market traders are holding a 'find the Easter bunnies' event on Saturday and are donating eggs to patients at Cannock Hospital for the 22nd year running.

Rugeley stallholders will be hosting a raffle and colouring competition during the school holidays, while two free arts and crafts sessions will be held on April 24.

Children's Easter workshops

Evie Louise Bolton aged five, William Nittens, nine and Lilly Abbotts, six, have Easter fun YOUNGSTERS can get inspired by the works of Julia Donaldson during Easter holiday workshops.

The Museum of Cannock Chase, in Valley Road, Hednesford, is staging the drop-in sessions based on the author's creations next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday April 22-24.

Children can make monsters, stick men, bookmarks, door hangers and animals masks and hunt for the Gruffalo paw prints in an outdoor trail. There is no need to book for the sessions, which take place from 11am to 3pm each day at a cost of £1.50 per child, but free for accompanying adults.

Visitors can also take part in quizzes and look at the new mining gallery.

Creative workshops have also been held this week. Call 01543 877666 for more details.

Closure of youth clubs to go ahead

PLANS to close council-run youth clubs across Staffordshire will go ahead after attempts to make bosses rethink failed.

The 34 clubs will shut unless volunteers can be found to take them over.

The plans were called-in by councillors, but the authority's corporate review committee has now voted for them to go through.

Cannock Council leader George Adamson said hundreds of young people would be left with nowhere to go and raised concerns that it would not be feasible for volunteers to run the service.

Provision

He added: "Without under-estimating the huge value and contribution of volunteers, youth work is now a largely graduate profession, and the quality of the provision and thus positive outcomes for our young people is in doubt if the current expertise is lost."

Youth worker John Butcher, chairman of the youth workers' sector of Unite, said: "It is devastating."

Robbie Marshall, cabinet member for health and wellbeing, said: "With three-quarters of young people in Staffordshire not using traditional council-run youth clubs, we were funding a service that wasn't fully meeting their needs."

Football club 50 years old

AN exhibition of old photographs and memorabilia is being held to mark 50 years of Heath Hayes FC.

Items go on display at the village library in Hednesford Road for two weeks from Monday, April 28.

On Saturday, May 10, all former players, officials and anyone connected with the club is invited to a gathering at Newlands Lane ground.

It features a barbecue, hog roast, live band and bar and starts at 7pm. Further details on 07717 625865.

Children offered food for thought

CHILDREN are being taught the importance of nutrition and a healthy lifestyle in an initiative run by the Toby Carvery.

The restaurant, on the A5 at Norton Canes, is now looking for more local schools to take part in its Chef School programme.

The scheme offers free educational sessions and meals for children aged from six-to-10 and has been relaunched after being up-dated and created in partnership with primary school teachers.

Classes of up to 30 children are being invited to the restaurant for a two hour session, involving games and educational activities, a meet and greet with the restaurant team as well as a complimentary meal at lunchtime for pupils and teachers.

Toby carvery general manager

David Blakeway said: "We're really excited to launch the Chef School this year as we have worked hard on making sure the lesson fits the KS1 and KS2 curriculum's focus on healthy eating."

"Our visits are a great way to teach children about vegetables and healthy eating in a unique behind-the-scenes experience."

"We've had some brilliant feedback from teachers and pupils who have previously taken part in Chef School."

Each participating pupil will receive a goody bag which includes a certificate, chef's hat, sticker booklet with vouchers for an ice cream and a child's carvery.

To register an interest in the free Toby Carvery Chef School visit www.tobycarvery.co.uk/chefschool.

Efforts stepped up to halt car key burglars

THOUSANDS of car key burglaries are being carried out across Staffordshire each year, a top police chief has warned.

Raiders are targeting family saloons as well as high end luxury vehicles which have usually been taken in the car key crimes.

Ch Sup Jon Drake, commander of Staffordshire South which covers Lichfield, Cannock, Stafford and Stone, said across the whole of the county there were about half a dozen car key burglaries each day - making more than 2,000 each year.

It has led to Staffordshire Police stepping up its bid to crackdown on the crime.

Chf Sup Drake said: "Burglars tend to target high value vehicles but they are going for more normal cars and family hatchback cars."

"Some cars just disappear entirely. Others are broken down and parts sold. Some parts are very valuable. Across the whole of Staffordshire there are about half a dozen car key burglaries a day."

Method
Chf Sup Drake said burglars were as cunning as ever when it came to stealing cars.
He added: "They do often use a hook and cane through the letter-box to fish for the keys. Another method is just kicking the door down and others sneak in through an unlocked door, even when homeowners are in."

He said Staffordshire Police was working closely with officers from other forces to share intelligence, target, disrupt and arrest offenders travelling across borders for the purpose of committing crimes. And the police use an automatic number plate recognition system to track down the criminals.

He advised homeowners not to leave keys near doors or windows, always lock doors and windows and to park in a garage overnight.

"We also exceeded our target to raise over a £1,000, which is great news. I would like to thank everybody who was involved in making our cycle challenge such an unbelievably great day."

"Raising money for such a great cause helped to lessen any aches and pains that followed."

Money raised for Sport Relief helps to change the lives of children at home and abroad.

On bike to raise vital funds

A SOLICITOR hopped on her bike to call at 26 legal firms across Staffordshire. Julie Tomasik raised £2,000 for an emergency service that delivers medical supplies.

Mrs Tomasik volunteers for the Blood Bikes charity, which takes supplies to hospitals on motorcycles.

Mrs Tomasik started in Cannock at 8.30am before heading to Stafford, Penkridge, Eccleshall, Uttoxeter and Lichfield. Over 10 hours she covered 70 miles riding pillion. Shropshire and Staffordshire Blood Bikes was launched in January after the initiative proved successful across the country.

There are currently 100 volunteer riders with two specially equipped motorbikes. Six bikes are needed to provide cover for the whole of Shropshire and Staffordshire.

Donations can be sent to Ansons, Commerce House, Ridings Park, Eastern Way, Cannock, Staffordshire, WS11 7FJ.

Money is used to fund fuel and equipment to the purchase of a new bike.

Arboretum walk to honour war dead

A FUNDRAISING walk is to take place at the site where the country remembers its war dead.

The Walk for Remembrance will take place at the National Memorial Arboretum, near Lichfield, on Sunday, May 11 at 1pm.

The annual event will go towards the £4,000 needed each day for the Arboretum to remain free to enter.

Walkers will complete either a 5km or a 10km circuit of the grounds, ending at the Armed Forces Memorial.

Birthday

Among those taking part will be Joy Bratherton, a committee member of the Western Front Association, who was brought up in Rugeley and now lives in Cheshire.

She took her late father, Squadron Leader Redvers Stanley, to the arboretum in 2008 for his 80th birthday.

She said: "He loved it, and I thought doing the walk would be a great way of raising money for the charity while keeping his memory alive."

To take part, visit the NMA website and download a registration form. To request a form by post, call 01283 792 333 or email info@thenma.org.uk

Village church Easter crafts

A CHURCH is holding an Easter-themed arts and crafts workshop on Good Friday.

Organised by St Thomas' in Huntingdon but held at the community centre in Stafford Road, activities will include making an Easter tray garden, 3-D pictures, paper stained-glass window cards, pencil holders and greetings cards and baskets.

It will be held tomorrow (Friday) from 9.30am to noon.

Hot cross buns and refreshments will be available, and an Easter bonnet parade will be held.

Tenant evicted

A PROBLEM tenant who made lives a misery is to be evicted. Cannock Chase Council was granted a possession order on the property in Greenheath Road, Hednesford for continuous anti-social behaviour and burgling a home in the area.

Juniors in BBC soccer show with Collymore

CLUB officials from Wryley Juniors FC met Cannock star Stan Collymore during a BBC broadcast.

Four members of the club, the largest in Staffordshire and the county's FA Community Club of the Year, were invited to the studios in Birmingham to take part in a discussion over grassroots football for the Late Kick Off programme.

Andy Parfitt, Trevor Smith, Keith Hardy and Mark Smallman were part of a 20-strong invited audience that saw former Villa and England striker Collymore and Nottingham Forest goalkeeper coach Eric Steele discussing local league football issues.

The programme covered issues facing grassroots football including finance, facilities and reducing numbers playing the game.

Wryley Juniors moved into its own £1.3m base in October 2011 and has had matches played at their ground in Long Lane, Essington for the first time this season.

Mr Hardy, Wryley Juniors chairman, was asked what it had done to address the issues and detailed how it had raised funds over a 10 year struggle to find facilities for 13 of its 43 teams.

On collision course with scientific history

Wolgarston Sixth Formers and school staff visit the Hadron Collider on the French/Swiss border

A GROUP of sixth formers had the unique opportunity of visiting the famous Hadron Collider responsible for the discovery of the Higgs boson, the so-called 'God Particle' which is one of the building blocks of life.

The collider is based at The Globe of Science and Innovation Centre known as CERN on the borders of France and Switzerland.

The 'outstanding' students from Wolgarston High School in Penkridge were invited. CERN is at the forefront of trying to answer fundamental questions such as how the universe began and what the basic building blocks of matter are.

Staff and students were told how the collider uses seven terra electron volts in its experiments – and how in 40 years the scientists would like to up that to 14 terra electron volts.

Staff and students said how much they enjoyed seeing science at work. Elysia Robinson, of Year 13, said: "It was interesting to see the applications of physics at A-Level and inspiring to see the home of ground-breaking research."

During the trip staff and students visited Geneva. Year 12 student John Gozum said: "CERN was a great experience and Geneva was a great city."

Year 12 student Liam Daker added: "This experience has also reignited my passion for the French language."

Murderer fails in appeal to have sentence reduced

MURDERER David Harrison has failed in a bid to have his sentence for killing a father-of-two reduced.

The contract killer shot dead Chasetown businessman Richard Deakin with a sawn-off shotgun as he lay in his own bed in Meadway Street.

Harrison was convicted of murder in December 2012 but challenged his 37-year jail term at the Court of Appeal in London.

He also launched a bid to appeal against his conviction – but this was rejected at the same hearing.

Judges ruled his sentence for the 'carefully planned and professionally executed' murder was justified.

When sentenced, Harrison, aged 64 and from Bilston, was told he would probably die in prison.

Denied

He has consistently denied having anything to do with the July 2010 killing. Getaway driver Darryl Dickens was also convicted and given 30 years.

Black Country drug lord John Anslow was accused of organising the murder but was found not guilty last month.

Lord Justice Beatson told Harrison: "The minimum term is indeed a long one."

"This was a carefully planned and professionally executed professional contract killing in the victim's own home by a man with previous convictions for fire-arm offences."

by Tim Spiers

Harrison's barrister Mr Adrian Keeling QC, in a bid to get an appeal against his conviction heard by judges, told the Court of Appeal that identification evidence linking Harrison to the murder was 'weak'.

During his and Dickens' trial at Birmingham Crown Court, jurors heard that police informant Alan Cash identified Harrison from CCTV footage shown on BBC programme Crime-watch.

Cash recognised Harrison's limp and noted his balaclava was sewn up at the mouth – an item Harrison had used before.

Mr Keeling claimed Cash's evidence was of characteristics, but not of a specific individual.

But Lord Justice Beatson retorted: "The case against Harrison was based on Mr Cash's recognition, supported by a wealth of other evidence."

Mr Deakin, 27, was killed just after his fiancée Megan had left their home with their two young daughters.

Children win chocolate

THREE children won chocolate prizes in a design an Easter card competition. The contest, organised by the Cedar Tree Christian drop-in centre in Cheslyn Hay, attracted more than 150 entries from seven local primary schools. Cheslyn Hay pupils Alexandra Price and Alex Keeling and Heather Barker of Havergal, were handed 'Real' Easter egg by Cedar Tree volunteers Janet Appleton and John Hurley. All participants received a small bar of chocolate.

Dyslexia friendly status at school

TEACHERS and pupils are celebrating after their school received a top dyslexia award.

Gentleshaw Primary, in Darlings Lane, is the first school in Staffordshire to receive Enhanced Dyslexia Friendly Full Status.

The status is allocated by Staffordshire County Council in association with the British Dyslexia Association to schools that have procedures to help dyslexic students achieve their full potential.

Michelle Pincombe, special educational needs co-ordinator, said: "This new status shows we are teaching in the right way at a pace that is suitable for all our pupils."

"There were lots of requirements we had to meet over a two-year period."

The award also recognises other difficulties children with dyslexia face such as speech, language and communication, memory difficulties and behaviour.

Miss Pincombe added: "The methods we use in our lessons are fun and benefit all the pupils."

"We are all really pleased to have achieved this status and to be the only school in Staffordshire is an amazing achievement."

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

MORE on the seven-a-day fruit and vegetable debate. One reader asks whether knowing a Swede counts as one portion. Another reader tells me his lifestyle should qualify as a few portions. He is a couch potato.

ANY bets on how long this fad for seven portions of fruit and vegetables will last before some scientist discovers a dramatic increase in human flatulence is destroying the ozone layer?

SO FAREWELL, Maria Miller. All along, David Cameron insisted the former culture secretary had "done the right thing" when he, she and the whole world knew that the only right thing was resignation. A reader says he recalls that back in 1975 the rock group Queen foresaw David Cameron's long and pointless defence of Miller with a line in Bohemian Rhapsody: "Ms Miller, no! / We will not let her go." Yes, it was something like that.

TONY Blair says politicians should be prepared to start wars – even if the people are against it. He believes the opposition of the people "doesn't invalidate the necessity to intervene." This is breath-taking stuff. If a government goes to war when the people are against it, in whose name are you dropping those bombs? Whose interests are you serving – the interests of an American president, perhaps? Blair is a great gift to conspiracy theorists. When you hear him speak, you could almost believe this world is run in the interests of New World Order organisations like the Illuminati or global banking. What a scary man he is. I interviewed him four times. Never liked him. Never understood his appeal.

"DIGITAL Age Drove Auntie to Dignitas" was a typical headline on the report about an 89-year-old British woman who was allowed to commit suicide at the Dignitas Clinic in Switzerland even though she was neither seriously handicapped nor terminally ill. It seems she was depressed by every modern thing from the rise of ready meals to computers, emails, television, destruction of the environment and "people becoming more and more remote." But while the image of an old lady driven to suicide by the digital age makes great headlines, most reports downplayed a significant fact. The lady, identified only as Anne, had been seriously ill last year and spent 11 days in hospital. She described the experience as "unadulterated hell." I bet that chimes with thousands of elderly folk who have been pitchforked by illness from the ordered serenity of their own homes into the uncaring indignity of a hospital ward full of the sort of people, both patients and staff, that you normally try to avoid. Knowing the future will probably bring more such "unadulterated hell," who wouldn't consider Dignitas? The digital age is painted as the villain in this story but I bet the NHS played a part.

WHEN the Sheffield half-marathon was cancelled because of a shortage of drinking water, I was so proud of my fellow Yorkshirefolk. First, with reet grand Northern disregard for the instructions, the runners ignored the cancellation and carried on running. Secondly, local folk armed themselves with thousands of bottles of mineral water and sold the runners as much as they could buy. Hang on. I have just been told that the locals actually gave the water away, for nowt. Are we absolutely sure this happened in Yorkshire?

WINE wisdom. The Times advises its readers not to order "house white, please" in restaurants but to try: "Have you got a vignier-style aromatic white, the sort you might find in the Dolomites?" And if you do say that, can you guess which word will flash into the mind of the waiter and anyone else within earshot? Rhymes with anchor.

Men needed for a moment of Madness

A LEADING musical theatre group is buzzing from sell-out shows and a national award nomination. However, it is still desperate for one more thing to complete its success – men.

Backstreet Theatre Company has been nominated for a National Operatic and Dramatic Association (NODA) Award and members are gearing up to perform Our House at the Prince Of Wales Centre in Cannock in September.

But although there is a regular cast of male performers, the Madness musical is so full of blokey banter and songs that they need more men to join.

"Our House is a brilliant musical for the lads" said chairman Jo Goulding. "Everyone knows the classic songs like Baggy Trousers and Driving In My Car and it's full of great dance routines and 80s costumes.

"It's such an upbeat, lively show I am more than sure there are some guys out there who can dance."

Rehearsals for Our House take place on Thursday nights from 7-10 within the Ramada complex. For more, visit backstreettheatrecompany@gmail.com or tweet @

BackStTheatreCo. All disciplines – dance, singing and acting – will be involved in the show.

Our House: The Musical is at the Prince of Wales Centre, Church Street, Cannock from September 4-6.

Tickets are £12 for adults, £10 concessions and available from the box office on 01543 578762 or from www.positickets.co.uk

Battle won against green belt homes bid

CAMPAIGNERS have won their battle to stop a controversial housing estate being built on green belt land between Cheslyn Hay and Great Wyrley.

The deadline for the developer to appeal to the Government's planning inspector about the proposal has now passed – with no move being made.

Builder Ken Lees had wanted to build 141 homes on the site in Landywood Lane – seen as the last buffer separating the neighbouring parishes.

South Staffordshire MP Gavin Williamson has now claimed victory in the fight.

The bid ended up in the High Court after the district council vetoed the application but the developer lost his legal challenge.

He resolved to appeal to the Planning Inspectorate but changed his mind.

Appeal

Mr Williamson led residents in a high-profile campaign, mounting a petition with 4,281 names that he presented to Parliament earlier this year.

The Conservative MP said: "I am delighted residents' views have been heard."

Mr Lees, director of KGL Estates, which is based in Cannock, said his decision not to proceed with an appeal had been taken on the advice of the firm's legal consultant.

"We haven't been influenced by Mr Williamson at all," he said.

The housing proposal was originally thrown out by the district council last year but Mr Williamson said there was a risk that the Planning Inspectorate would overturn the decision.

He recruited villagers to help him send out leaflets to thousands of homes, voicing concerns that the proposals would 'erode' the 'distinct identity of South Staffordshire's individual villages', and pose a risk of flooding.

Mr Lees challenged the council's local plan, which sets out how it wants land to be used.

The council set a figure of 56 homes for Great Wyrley but Mr Lees argued the village had sufficient infrastructure for substantially more housing.

Village procession to mark St George's Day

VILLAGERS in Great Wyrley will be celebrating St George's Day this weekend.

Festivities marking the patron saint's day take place on Saturday, April 19. They start at noon with a procession from Harrison's Sports & Social Club, Wharwell Lane, led by Chase Drum Corps and the men's section of Great Wyrley Royal British Legion, assisted by the village carnival committee and featuring St George on his horse.

Charity stalls will set up on the sports field, while a barbecue and hot roast pork will be served.

A ticket only Kate's Party follows in the club from 8pm. More information from Audrey on 07936 689103.

New look for shopping area

Dianne Clift cuts the ribbon watched by Rob Fitzmaurice and district council officers

TRADERS joined local groups and council officials for the unveiling of Burntwood's newly-improved Rycroft Shopping Centre.

Building work to improve the car park and public spaces started in March following the formation of the Rycroft Traders' Association. Other work has included repairing the forecourt area, and upgrading and reconnecting the lighting. Dianne, founding member of the Traders' Association, said: "It's been a huge project for us and it's finally paid off."

Repairs were funded by the town council, Burntwood Business Crew (with High Street Innovation funds), Lichfield District Safer Community Partnership and Staffordshire Local Community Fund. Traders are contributing to ongoing maintenance.

Traders' chairman Rob Fitzmaurice, of Midland Plumbing Supplies, said: "This is going to make such a difference."

Cigarette to blame for fire at property

FIREFIGHTERS say a blaze that led to a man being rescued and a 14-month-old baby being treated for smoke inhalation was started by a discarded cigarette.

Crews found a 67-year-old man in the kitchen of a bungalow in Cromwell Road, Heath Hayes, on Tuesday, April 8. They carried him out and he was given oxygen therapy.

A 52-year-old woman, an 18-year-old man and a 14-month-old baby were also in the property when the fire started but managed to escape.

All suffered smoke inhalation and were taken to Walsall Manor Hospital.

The blaze is thought to have started when smoking materials were discarded on a quilt cover in a bedroom. Four firefighters wearing breathing apparatus tackled the blaze and two hose reel jets were also used.

The bedroom was completely gutted and every room in the bungalow, apart from the kitchen, was severely smoke damaged.

Fire station manager Bob Preston said: "This family had an extremely lucky escape. One of the occupants also attempted to tackle the fire themselves which we would urge people never to do."

Increase in production

A RISE in manufacturing and industrial production has been welcomed by Chase Chamber of Commerce director Chris Plant.

He said it was 'pleasing' the sector was growing faster than expected.

Manufacturing output in February is up one per cent on the month, and 3.8 per cent on the year. Total industrial production is also up.

Mr Plant said: "While the share of manufacturing in the UK economy remains relatively modest, it is hugely important to our economic recovery."

Meeting Barlow is Greatest Day for Hayley

Hayley Tatton's selfie with Gary Barlow

A LUCKY lady had the greatest day of her life and became the envy of women worldwide when she was serenaded by Gary Barlow.

Hayley Tatton was plucked from the crowd of 13,000 during the Take That star's show at Birmingham's LG Arena to sing A Million Love Songs.

Hayley, originally from Penkridge but now living and working in Walsall, took pictures and recorded a video on her mobile phone as the star laughed along while playing the piano. She got a rapturous reception, dancing arm in arm with Barlow.

In Hayley's video, posted online, she captures a grinning Barlow playing the piano and then moves in for a 'selfie' style pose, putting her arm around the multi-million record selling superstar. Her antics had some of the crowd in tears of laughter.

Super fan Hayley has seen Barlow 35 times in concert. The 31-year-old said: "It was absolutely amazing, my hands were shaking."

"It felt like I was only up there for a few seconds, I just couldn't believe it was happening."

"I had a bit of a laugh and was playing the tambourine, I just thought I'd get involved instead of sitting there and doing nothing."

"Everyone was coming up to me in the car park afterwards and saying how great it was. It was definitely the best night of my life."

The singer thanked Hayley for joining him on stage, while one of his band mates, Birmingham saxophone player Mike Stevens later took to Twitter to say Hayley made their night.

Barlow's tour is to promote his first solo album in 14 years. He's back at the LG Arena next Saturday, April 19.

Mother's pain as police renew appeal on assault

THE mother of a man seriously injured in an assault in Cannock has spoken of her pain as detectives renew their appeal for help.

The assault happened when the victim, Josh Morgan, aged 20, was in the Backcroft area at the rear of Poundland at around 2.05am on Sunday, March 9. He remains in the University Hospital of North Staffordshire in a critical condition.

Criminals pay back over £1m

CRIMINALS have been ordered to pay back more than £1.3 million over the last year in Staffordshire.

Confiscation orders issued at court force them to pay the cash equivalent of their benefit of crime – meaning they have to sell off possessions acquired through their criminal lifestyle.

During 2013/14 confiscation orders worth £1,317,104 were obtained, including cash seizures of £212,820 under the Proceeds of Crime Act (POCA).

The money recovered is paid to the Government who then allocate half back to Staffordshire Police to benefit community projects through the Police and Crime Commissioner's Proceeds of Crime Fund.

Commissioner Matthew Ellis, said: "One hundred per cent of funding that comes back to Staffordshire Police from proceeds of crime seizures is going directly to local communities. It's about hitting criminals where it hurts – in the pocket – and doing what's right to help communities with that money."

Detectives have since arrested and charged two Cannock men with section 18 assault – grievous bodily harm. Alistair Douglas, 24, of Longford Road and James Robb, 21, of Langdale Green remain on bail to appear at Stafford crown court.

Josh's mother Clare Simpson said: "I cannot begin to explain how much I miss my beautiful son, although we are by Josh's side every day."

"No one can tell me if I will ever be able to hear his voice again. The pain and the hurt is unbearable."

Suspects

Investigating officer DS Adrian Webb said two women believed to have interacted with the suspects had come forward following an appeal, but added: "We are also keen to hear from anyone else who was in Cannock town centre on Saturday night leading into Sunday morning on March 8 to 9."

He also appealed for anyone who recalled seeing Josh that night. He is described as mixed race with a distinctive afro-style hair cut, which was worn pulled back. He was wearing a black leather jacket.

Anyone with information is asked to call 101, quoting incident number 111 of March 9 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Dresses for brides on a budget

Volunteers Rhianne Buttler and Janet Cleet, manager Kath Satterthwaite and assistant manager Sue Grimley

A CANNOCK charity shop is building up a range of pre-loved wedding dresses to help out brides-to-be on a budget.

The Katharine House Hospice shop in Wolverhampton Road say nobody really needs to know how much the dress costs, adding a close match to one's dream outfit can often be found – at a fraction of the original price.

The shop has one dress and veil set believed to have cost up to £800 new – but it is selling for just £125. The Pronuptia dress with sleeves and a waist-length veil is among four dresses currently on sale at the charity shop.

Manager Kath Satterthwaite said she got the idea for the sale after an increase in donations of wedding dresses, hats and even bridegrooms' suits. She said: "It isn't often that we get wedding dresses come into the store but when we do we always send them to other stores to sell."

"Recently we saw a surge of women and men donating their unwanted tuxedos, gowns and bridesmaid dresses, so we thought we should make more of this and start selling them ourselves."

Mrs Satterthwaite said: "I suppose some women still treasure their dresses and will always keep them, but I think a lot of people want to do what they can to help the hospice."

"Times are hard for people now and they have realised that they can get a dress so much cheaper second hand – and no one will be able to tell the difference."

Dealer in jail after handing himself in ADRU dealer caught trading in Cannock before going on the run for two years has been jailed for 37 months.

Richard Collins handed himself in after absconding from bail. Stafford Crown Court heard how he was arrested in June 2011. Police chased Collins on foot after he fled from a car in Cannock and he was arrested.

In his car were 27 wraps of heroin and three of crack cocaine.

Collins himself had £5 worth of cannabis and £55 in cash on him, said Mr Paul Spratt, prosecuting.

Collins' home was searched and police found scales, plastic bags and a mobile phone containing messages showing he was dealing in drugs.

Collins, aged 27, of Ashmore Lake Road, Willenhall, admitted two charges of possessing drugs with intent to supply, one of possessing cannabis and a separate offence of failing to surrender to bail, for which he was jailed for a further month.

The court heard Collins pleaded guilty to the offences in March 2012, but failed to turn up at court to be sentenced. He was re-arrested in April.

Mr Chris Clark, defending, said Collins had surrendered himself voluntarily.

Death after hip break op

A 90-year-old who broke her hip in a fall died following surgery on the fracture.

Margaret Jones, of Bentons Lane, Great Wyrley, died at Stafford Hospital, on February 24.

South Staffs Coroner Mr Andrew Haigh recorded an accidental death verdict. He told an inquest that the circumstances of the January 29 fall were unknown.

He said Mrs Jones had made a slow recovery from the op to repair her right hip and developed pneumonia.

A post mortem gave the cause of death as pneumonia due to a hip fracture.

Cows are rescued

TWO cows were rescued from a canal. Firefighters also saved a number from the bank at Harrison's Lane in Gailey. Crews from Cannock and Tamworth were called shortly after 11.20am on Thursday, April 10, along with a water rescue unit from Tamworth.

IN MY VIEW

WITH
ANDREWS

IN THE age of text-speak, Twitter and whatever other means youngsters use to communicate today, teachers really have their work cut out trying to instil the importance of spelling, punctuation and grammar.

But while it probably won't ever make it onto the National Curriculum, the story about the sign outside a pub in Cornwall is a lesson for every youngster who can't be bothered with all that boring stuff.

'The Wig & Pen is open for business' is what the sign should have said. However, the signwriter somehow got it wrong, forgetting to leave a space between the 'pen' and the 'is'.

And that's the trouble. Learning boring old rules about sentence structure and non-phonetic spelling seems terribly boring and old-fashioned when you're 14. But ignoring it can leave you looking like a right 'pen is'.

A TABLOID report this week claimed that half a million patients who received cosmetic surgery are now at risk of black-mail.

Apparently, thousands of women who had breast implant surgery, or 'boob jobs' as they are known in the trade, are now at risk of having their secret exposed. So to speak.

Just a thought. If your 'boob job' is so secret that nobody knows about it, well, it can't really have worked, can it?

A COUPLE of years ago, I interviewed a fellow who told me how his in-laws did not speak to one another when he first got married.

"The one side of the family was from Colley Gate, and the other was from Cradley, and for a while they didn't speak to one another because I had married a 'foreigner'," he said.

For those not familiar with this part of the world, Colley Gate and Cradley are about a mile apart.

Times have changed, but the story illustrates the futility of trying to create a 'Greater Birmingham city region', which has been rearing its head again lately.

And while we're on the subject, why do public authorities persist with banging on about the 'four Black Country boroughs'?

The Black Country is a loosely-defined concept which has been around for centuries. It is nothing to do with 1970s local government boundaries.

Government, both central and local should stick to sorting out the economy, maintaining order and emptying the bins.

And not delude itself into believing that you can change ancient identities with a few new signs.

Fallen honoured in town memorial

A new war memorial has been unveiled after a 20 year battle in Burntwood. LAURA BLYTH reports

IT has taken 20 years but a new memorial to honour fallen soldiers has now been unveiled.

The granite memorial in Burntwood features the names of more than 30 fallen soldiers who lost their lives in the First World War.

It comes after a two decade-long campaign to raise £17,000.

The stone was installed on April 8 in the car park of Burntwood Memorial Community Centre in Rugeley Road.

Brian Harman, chairman of the centre's trustees, said it was an emotional moment when the memorial was finally unveiled.

"I have been involved in this project for more than 20 years," he said.

"In that time we have had to raise the money for this memorial.

"Burntwood was the only parish in the area not to have its own war memorial. We were trying to get it unveiled in the centenary year of the start of the Great War.

Invited

"It looks fabulous. When it was unveiled it brought a lump to my throat."

The stone also features the names of troops who died in the Second World War, Iraq, Ireland and Afghanistan. Relatives of those who lost their lives were invited to the unveiling.

Various local groups donated cash for the project. The stone was flown over from China.

Members of the Burntwood Memorial Community Centre attended the unveiling ceremony, as well as serving soldier Corp Mark Rollason and the Last Post was also played.

Kevin Marshall, of the Burntwood

The new war memorial is unveiled in Burntwood

Family History Group described it as a special event for Burntwood, remembering the centenary of the outbreak of the First World War.

He said previously there was a plaque in the entrance of the hall which only listed those that had fallen in the Great War.

In the First World War there were 38 names recorded and he took up their stories. He said many of those were coal miners before they enlisted, including the brothers James and Albert Lees, who both lost their lives in 1917, James at Ypres and Albert in Flanders. Someone from a very different background was Lieutenant Charles Bennett Spence, the son of Dr and Mrs Spence of Burntwood.

Dr Spence was a Medical Superintendent at St Matthews Hospital. As a lieutenant, he was in the first wave of the Royal Flying Corps that went to France in 1914. He was killed on May 9, 1916 while flying his Maurice Farman Short-horn which was made mostly of wood and canvas.

Henry Jarvis came from Chorley and before the war was a schoolmaster who taught at Queen Mary's in Walsall. He was also a chorister at Lichfield Cathedral.

One night he did not come home until the following morning because he had walked to Whittington Barracks and back to enlist. "I've got to get at 'em" he said. He was mortally wounded at Gallipoli and died later at sea on August 24, 1915.

In World War II, the first Burntwood man to lose his life was Ronald Fauch of Chase Road who fell in Normandy on December 12, 1939. His mother had a premonition of his death the day before she received the tragic news.

John Shorthose of Cannock Road also died in Normandy but in 1944 on July 8. He was a sergeant in the South Staffordshire Regiment.

John Workman was an able seaman serving on HMS Fidelity which sank, north of the Azores, on December 30, 1942.

Sunk

The Fidelity suffered from engine problems and had to be left behind by the convoy. She was torpedoed by U-435 and sunk with the loss of 51 marines and 274 crew, including AB Workman. There were 44 survivors.

Finally, there was Kevin Main whose plane was shot down in Iraq on March 23, 2003.

He was returning from a bombing mission over Baghdad when his Tornado was mistakenly shot down by a USA Patriot Missile crew.

He was educated at Chasetown High School and always wanted to be a pilot and had a dream to fly in the Dambusters' Squadron, which he did fulfil.

The space in the entrance to Burntwood Memorial Hall where the plaque was situated is to be filled with a stunning piece of embroidery which will be unveiled on May 23. The work was completed by the members of Embroidery for Burntwood Community.

POLITICS

WAINWRIGHT

THERE was a bigger scandal than the resignation of Maria Miller as Culture Secretary; the sacking of Michael Fabricant as a Conservative party vice chairman.

The always-entertaining blond bombshell that is Lichfield MP 'Mickey Fab' was dropped because he is about to lead a rebellion of Tories concerned about the route of the planned high speed rail line. But the final straw that saw him stripped of his prominent role was his remarks about Mrs Miller.

On the day Willenhall-born Mrs Miller finally bowed to public and political pressure to go over her expenses claims, Mr Fabricant said on Twitter that it was 'about time'.

And when the party asked him if he'd stand aside for that, he stood his ground. Resignation, Fabbo says, would imply he thought he'd done something wrong. And he doesn't think he has.

His more long-term disagreement with his party leaders, over HS2, is not unique to the MP. Both Staffordshire County Council and Lichfield District Council are formally opposed to the line and both are controlled by the Tories.

The Fabricant affair is actually a far more troubling one for the Tories than the Maria Miller one. Or, at least, it ought to be.

What the party effectively says to its members, as they start campaigning for the council and European elections is this: Claim thousands of pounds more than you should have from the taxpayer for your second home and then make a 32-second perfunctory apology for your attitude and you'll have the full backing of your leader.

But speak your mind as well as the views of the majority of the country and your constituents on a matter of trust and integrity in politics as well as a hugely costly and controversial piece of infrastructure and you're sacked.

Ed Miliband is still adamant that the country is in a 'cost of living crisis'. His solution is to promise to devote £20 billion of taxpayers' money held in Whitehall to city and county regions. This means eventual investment in infrastructure and skills, eventually meaning more businesses create jobs, eventually meaning people have more money to spend.

Meanwhile, on the way back to the office from Birmingham, where Mr Miliband made that announcement, a lady on the Midland Metro grumbled at the £5.70 cost of her return ticket.

She hadn't had the benefit of sitting and listening to Ed Miliband speak at length about the 'cost of living crisis' before he was chauffeured away in a Land Rover.

Paedophile who babysat young girls sent to jail

Go Wylde for Nancy at 104

Nancy with Peggy Greenaway and great nieces Pat and Rebecca Russell. A FORMER barmaid celebrated her 104th birthday with a tot of whisky.

Nancy Wylde, nee Reeves, was born in New Street, Bridgtown, on April 2, 1910.

She is an honorary member of Bridgtown Local History and several members joined her family at a celebration at the Conifers nursing home in Johns Lane, Great Wyrley, where she now lives. Great-niece Pat Russell, aged 51, said: "She swears by her daily drop of whisky."

Mrs Wylde, one of eight children, was married to Tom and was a keen darts player.

During the war she worked in an ammunition factory and later served behind the bar at the Crystal Fountain pub in Cannock.

A CONVICTED paedophile who babysat two young girls in defiance of a court ban has been jailed for 13 months.

Police monitoring Shaun Garbett discovered he had befriended a Cannock mother and her children, Stafford crown court heard. After being jailed at Wolverhampton in 2005 for sex offences, he was barred indefinitely from having contact with anyone under 18.

Mr David Bennett, prosecuting, said the contact with the mother's two daughters had been going on since 2005.

After arresting Garbett, officers seized his mobile phone and found two pictures of the girls, asleep in bed, on his phone. On its SIM card were indecent pictures of other girls aged between four and 16, some in the nude and others in 'explicit sexual poses'.

Garbett, aged 42, of North Street, Bridgtown, admitted three breaches of a Sexual Offences Prevention Order and two charges of possessing indecent photos of children.

Breach

Judge Mark Eades said: "A flagrant breach of a court order to protect the public is a serious matter."

Mr Bennett said in 2005 Garbett was jailed for 21 months at Wolverhampton crown court for sexual activity with a child and made subject to the SOPO.

In November 2012, police were tipped off that Garbett was babysitting the two young girls. The mother said she had only left them with him while she went to the shops.

Also recovered from the defendant's flat were a pair of boots and a teddy bear belonging to one of the girls.

In defence, Mr Oliver Woolhouse said the relationship between Garbett and the mother was no more than 'friendship'. He said: "She had never seen the defendant act in an inappropriate way towards the children."

8 No more hold-ups at bridges

The Chronicle Thursday, April 17, 2014

NOTWITHSTANDING all the initial hold-ups while the road works have been modified – and I appreciate they are not yet completed – as a resident living along the Brereton/Rugeley road, near the railway arches, the most noticeable thing is that vehicles no longer hurtle past my house at 60 mph (in a 30 area) to try to beat the traffic lights. You cannot jump an island.

With the old traffic light system hold-ups were the norm. To date there have not been any at the bridges.

The pedestrian crossing system is no longer light controlled so does not cause a hold-up. The paving block work looks attractive too.

Congratulations so far to the highways authority. Once the island is complete at St Paul's Road even fewer hold-ups should occur as drivers travelling north along Horsefair will be able to legally turn right, as they are doing now illegally.

True Christianity provides youth solution

FURTHER to your comments by the Bishop of Lichfield concerning youth and the need for youth clubs, etc, most of us are aware that youth need help but it is the solution that evades most of us.

No comments by the bishop concerning this task! He being the head of the Church of England in this area must have an inkling that true Christianity could provide the answer.

The Christian faith is a profound challenge to those who believe, and it is a challenge that youths most need and have always hankered after from day one. The gospels are the only remaining meta-narrative in the so-called post-modern age of today, the concept of to love God and neighbour being the key directive, there is an offer of a fresh life orientation for every life, and within such lies 'a means of grace and hope of glory' as quoted.

So many churches wallow in the concept of moralistic platitudes mostly empty and wan or else bicker over gay marriage and gay clergy, topics of very little real practical value, when brought against the youth problem.

The church has a profound message but mostly fails in the fact of its delivery.

The bishop needs to call his flock to repentance and a new fresh life, to be 'born again', because this is the only way possible for today and the ahead for the world in its pain.

Ridiculous remark on Chernobyl

JEREMY Hunt's comment that the Mid-Staffs scandal was comparable to Chernobyl was utterly ridiculous.

The Chernobyl disaster was a big, exciting surprise, and an accident, which opened up the USSR to outside scrutiny, and proved that radiation in low amounts is fairly harmless.

To me, the Mid-Staffs "scandal" was a pre-planned set-up by the Government, wherein some woman was given unlimited media coverage to complain about how her frail, dying mother died in one of Britain's lesser hospitals, allowing the Government to begin its agenda to privatise the NHS.

The Mid-Staffs scandal has more in common with the Twin Towers attacks of 9/11, the shootings at Sandy Hook or the Aurora cinema, or the "My Tram Experience" video on youtube. Completely false propaganda tools of the Government's agenda.

Repair works need not be necessary

RE: Road resurfacing in Hednesford Road and Cannock Road.

Having just taken 32 weeks by Staffordshire County Council to carry out replacement of kerbs, re-surfacing footpaths and totally strip and resurface the above roads, certain parts are now being ripped up for alterations/repairs.

With all modern technology, laser levels, automatic asphalt laying machines etc, remedial work like this should not be necessary, showing a total lack of competence.

As taxpayers will we have to pay for Staffordshire County Council's inability to carry out such works satisfactorily?

If this level of incompetence occurred in private industry, companies would soon be insolvent, so pay your taxes and keep state authorities solvent no matter what they get wrong.

Concerns as store on move to trading estate

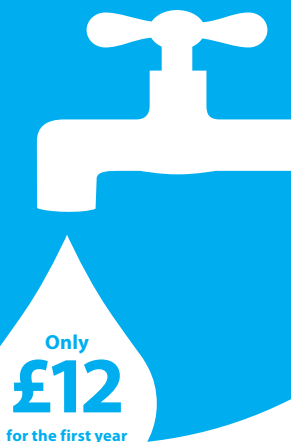

I AM very concerned to learn that another of our big shops, Poundland, is moving to the trading estate at Longford, along with Dunelm who have already gone.

Doesn't anyone ever give a thought to the thousands of customers who do not have their own transport? I would hazard a guess that the majority of people who shop at Poundland do not have a car, and there is no other way to get to this trading estate.

I wonder if a shuttle bus could be made available?

House of Lords outdated

THIS government is cutting down on almost everything that affects the lower paid, but it increases foreign aid by millions of pounds every year. When is this government going to realise this country needs extra funds for essential services?

It appears Cameron, Osborne, Clegg and Cable are intent on ruining Britain. How about getting rid of the outdated House of Lords and cutting down on the number of MPs?

Safer communities vow as funding awarded

MORE funding is going towards community safety in the Cannock, Rugeley, Lichfield and Burntwood areas.

The cash has been allocated through the Police and Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis' Locality Deal Fund and will be used to tackle the root causes of crime through early intervention, supporting victims and witnesses better, reducing re-offending and increasing public confidence.

Mr Ellis said: "Providing more money at a local level in this way will help deliver the best community safety solutions for people in Cannock and Rugeley."

"What's more, this funding is guaranteed until 2016 rather than on a 12-month basis which gives a greater chance for continuity instead of having to plan 'exit strategies' at the outset."

Evaluation

Funding will go to the districts' community safety partnership for the financial year 2014/15. Eighty per cent will be provided initially with a further 20 per cent following in October subject to successful evaluation of local achievements.

Council leader and Local Strategic Partnerships (LSP) chairman George Adamson said: "Cannock Chase LSP welcomes the substantial increase allocated by the Police and Crime Commissioner, the three year approach to this funding allows us to plan more effectively. It will be used to help deliver our partnership work in respect of community safety."

Lichfield District Council leader Councillor Mike Wilcox said: "We're grateful to the Office of the Police Crime Commissioner for recognising the importance of the work Lichfield District Safer Community Partnership does. We know that feeling safe

Shake on it – Councillor George Adamson and Matthew Ellis

in their community is a top priority for our residents, and this funding will help us to continue to work together to reduce crime and anti-social behaviour, making our district even safer."

The Locality Deal Fund is the largest part of £2.5 million of Commissioner's Community Funding for 2014/15.

Two other funding streams will provide funding to local community safety projects. The Commissioner's Proceeds of Crime Fund is seeing 100 per cent of funding received by Staffordshire Police going back into local communities, through grants of between £3,000 and £15,000.

It is made up of money seized from criminals as Staffordshire Police continue to robustly strip offenders of their assets.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people

I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Delight for family as Margot comes home

A GIRL who has captured hearts during a battle with leukaemia is back at home with her loving family.

Margot Martini has left London's Great Ormond Street Hospital after her life-saving bone marrow transplant.

The 19-month-old is settling in at home and playing with brothers Oscar, aged six, and five-year-old Rufus.

Margot has spent months in hospital where she has been undergoing treatment.

Her family launched a worldwide appeal to find a suitable bone marrow donor for her after she was diagnosed with leukaemia aged 14 months.

Their appeal was seen all over the world, with more than 40,000 registering to see if they could be a suitable match for the little girl.

And in February, it was revealed a suitable stem cell match – a German donor – had been found.

Memories

Parents Yaser, aged 43, and 38-year-old Vicki, who is originally from Essington and went to school in Cheslyn Hay, said it was great to see their daughter out of hospital.

"She really doesn't remember much before she was in there," said Yaser. "But it will be new memories from hereon in."

Margot must avoid crowded places for a while due to her weak immune system. But Yaser said the next few months would be 'family time'.

The family also hopes to one day meet the German donor who saved their daughter's life. They have already written a letter thanking him, but it had to be done anonymously. "We hope to meet him one day – he gave us a miraculous gift," said Yaser.

Margot Martini at home after her transplant with her mother Vicki

People have been kept up-to-date on Margot's progress via the Team Margot Facebook page, which has more than 15,000 followers.

Photographs show her at the family home in Roehampton in the arms of her smiling mother. Others show her playing with her brothers and walking out of the hospital holding hands with her siblings.

In a social media posting, Yaser wrote: "We are very thankful for your wonderful support and hugely grateful for the positive action that so many of you have taken."

He said Team Margot would continue to work to raise awareness and encourage more people to sign up as stem cell donors.

Waltzing together for 60 years

Diamond wedding couple Joan and William Love

A CANNOCK woman found Love, quite literally, when she met her future husband at a dance.

Joan and William Love met at New Hall Dance Club in Cannock and the pair have gone on to celebrate 60 years of marriage. The couple, of John Street in Chadsmoor, tied the knot at St Luke's Church in Cannock in March 1954.

They have a daughter Wendy Martin, and two grandchildren, Amberley, 27, and Reese, 26. Mrs Martin said their secret to a long and happy marriage was their shared love for their family - and compromise.

She said: "They used to go on holiday with their siblings

The couple on their wedding day 60 years ago and have a lot of fun. We have always been a close family and it all stems from them.

"They first met on the dance floor and they have danced with each other ever since, only giving it up a few years ago. "Both my mum and dad say you have got to give and take to make a marriage work which is what they have done."

Joan, aged 82, worked at Sperrins in Cannock assembling electrical parts, while William, 83, worked for Joseph Lucas for 26 years.

The couple held a family party to celebrate. Mrs Martin added: it was the perfect way to celebrate this occasion."

Jail for bus driver attack

A BUS driver suffered horrendous facial injuries when he was 'booted in the face' outside a chip shop in front of his family.

Darren Bill from Cannock had multiple fractures to his face and nose in the attack by Simon James, who was jailed for four years.

The violence outside the shops in Festival Court, Pye Green Road, Cannock, was witnessed by Mr Bill's wife and two young children, Stafford Crown Court heard.

He was in hospital for a week having surgery to insert three metal plates in his face. He has also undergone dental surgery. The injuries may have affected the vision in his one eye.

James, aged 38, now living in Abergele, North Wales, admitted inflicting grievous bodily harm with intent. Mr Nicholas Cartwright, prosecuting, said the attack on October 24, last year, followed an alleged incident involving the victim and one of the defendant's sons.

Police found blood and saliva on James's boots, but when questioned he falsely claimed Mr Bill had started the violence.

Mr Rob Perry, defending, said James had shown genuine remorse and accepted there was a heavy punch and a kick.

Cast digs deep at mine gallery visit

James Robinson, John McCardle, Andrew Dunn and Luke Adamson dig deep in the mining exhibition ACTORS paid a visit to a Chase museum's mining exhibition ahead of a play about life down the pits.

James Robinson, John McCardle, Andrew Dunn and Luke Adamson, cast members of Wolverhampton Grand Theatre's Brassed Off, stopped off at the new interactive display at the Museum of Cannock Chase in Hednesford.

The play ran last week – and six former Chase miners were at the opening night. They all agreed it captured the mood of the mining community at the time. Mick Drury, aged 78, from View Street, Cannock added: "I thought it was a very good production, particularly the brass band." Malcolm Baker, aged 82, from Brunswick Road, Cannock, said: "There used to be 27 mines in our area, and it was all one big community, not like it is today."

Alan Dean, from Melbourne Road, Heath Hayes, a founder member of Cannock Chase Mining Historical Society, agreed that Brassed Off was an accurate portrayal.

Actor McArdle said: "It is the right time for us to be putting on a production of Brassed Off because it is 30 years since the miners' strike."

Jail avoided over drugs

A MAN caught growing cannabis at home to pay off a loan shark narrowly escaped being sent to jail.

Prosecuting at Stafford crown court, Mr Stuart Clarkson, said a garden shed at Ian Smith's Norton Canes home contained 10 plants under cultivation, while in the garage next to it harvested cannabis was drying under lighting. The total street value of the drug including the potential yield from the plants was estimated at more than £8,000.

In addition, the electricity meter to the property had been bypassed with around £2,750 allegedly abstracted.

Smith, aged 49, of Norton East Road, admitted possessing drugs with intent to supply, producing cannabis and abstracting electricity. He was given an 18 month prison sentence, suspended for two years with a drug rehabilitation order. Recorder Mr Timothy Raggatt QC said: "This is the only chance you are going to get."

Miss Balvinder Bhatti, defending, said Smith had borrowed £900 from a loan shark and the debt had doubled.

"He was desperate at the time, financially struggling. He was on benefits, unable to work because of his health issues," she said. Miss Bhatti said Smith suffered immense pain and had been taking cannabis to ease it.

Talk given on bakery business

CANNOCK WI

THE March meeting top table displayed the beautiful WI embroidered cloth that Helen Hallchurch had made again for the club after the original was mislaid.

Business discussions followed, with the president discussing the WI Group ideas for the forthcoming Centenary Passing of the Baton when it passes through the Midlands on July 2. Cannock Chase, Shugborough, Birches Bridge are a few of the ideas put forward.

Speaker Glynnis Gayton gave an interesting talk on 'Our Daily Bread'. The family's Bakery business was started by Mrs Gayton's father-in-law in 1919 when they lived in a large house he had built in 1912 for £250. He set up business in a building at the top of the garden, with the help of his wife and five children.

Glynis started as a Saturday girl delivering and serving bread. The youngest son took a shine to Glynis and they eventually married and had four children. All of the family continued working in the bakery, until her husband died from the effects of flour dust on his chest.

Glynis decided to carry on and with the help of an experienced cake maker expanded the business, now having 15 employees and her sons and daughters working together.

Some ladies won fresh bread and rolls which Mrs Gayton had donated as raffle prizes. Stella Winfield gave the vote of thanks.

Kay Mathews won the decorated egg competition.

Novelist gets his teeth into big cat legend

LEGENDS about the mysterious beasts of the Cannock Chase and Wyre Forest have inspired television wildlife expert Martin Belderson to write his first novel.

Martin, who has worked on television programmes including the BBC's Wildlife On One and Horizon, said he had long been fascinated by stories of pumas and panthers lurking in woodlands.

He said two newspaper reports in particular – one from April 2009, which referred to sightings of panther-like creatures in Chaddesley Corbett, Ombersley, Bewdley and Worcester, and another from August that year, which reported on big cats preying on deer on the Chase – had formed the basis for parts of the novel.

Cuttings

"My wife Catherine is from Stafford, and all her family live in the area, and they regularly send me cuttings," he said. "Although the novel is set in the London area, the big cat stories in local newspapers formed an important part of the background."

Martin, who has written the novel Big Cat under the pen-name Jack Churchill, says his book is entirely a work of fiction, but remains convinced that such animals could well be living wild in the area.

"There have been so many reports I find it hard to believe they are all people being mistaken," he said.

"There are plenty of deer on the Cannock Chase, so they wouldn't be short of food. There is no reason why they would ever need to come into contact with humans," says the 49-year-old who lives in Leeds.

"The Midlands is much more heavily

TV wildlife expert Martin Belderson, who has written the Big Cat book wooded than it used to be." Reports of wild cats in West Midland woodlands have been rife ever since the Dangerous Wild Animals Act in 1976 imposed stringent conditions on anybody keeping such animals.

Reports of such animals being released into the wild by people who previously kept them as pets have led to countless legends.

Discovered

One of the reports that fascinates Martin relates to a large paw print being discovered in Norton Canes four years ago by plumber Kevin Goodson who was walking his two Labradors.

The discovery of the six-inch print came a fortnight after retired miner

Big Cat, written by Martin Belderson under the pseudonym of Jack Churchill

Steve Allatt, from Heath Hayes, discovered a fawn lying dead with two puncture holes in its neck as he walked his dog.

Terry Hooper, from the Exotic Animal Registry based in Bristol, said a black panther may have been responsible. He said: "Over the 20 years I have been logging sightings and studying evidence about big cats I have no doubt about the existence of them on Cannock Chase."

Mr Hooper, who had been studying evidence of big cats across Britain for more than 20 years, said Cannock Chase was one of the country's hot-spots and says the presence of panthers and pumas on the Chase might actually go back as far as the 1940s.

Louise's glasswork featuring extracts from the diary

Pages from Walter's Soldier's Small Book diary

The pocket watch that the bullet hit

Walter, later to become Cpl Davis, pictured as a child

Great War soldier had time on his side

THE GREAT granddaughter of a soldier who narrowly avoided being killed in action thanks to his pocket watch has reproduced a diary which charts his military career.

Corporal Walter Davis was a young soldier of the 9th Bn North Staffordshire Regiment, resigned to being slaughtered with thousands of his comrades in the First World War Battle of the Somme.

He survived the bloodshed – saved by his pocket watch, barely two inches wide, which took the impact of a bullet to his chest.

When he was sent home after almost 12 months on the Western Front, he brought back with him his Soldier's Small Book, issued by the Army to all servicemen.

Cpl Davis entered only one date, July 28. The year is not recorded

MEMORY LANE by Marion Brennan

but would have been 1915, the day he left for France. He records the first death in the regiment – 'poor Jim Ford' – and his own fears about going 'over the top'. In one entry, he talks about a shell burying itself just a yard away from him.

The book has now been reproduced by his great-granddaughter Louise Ward, of Walsall, and includes a section she has added about her grandfather Walter John, Walter's son, who followed in his footsteps by serving in the Second World War.

The diary has also been the inspiration for a series of glass sculptures created by art student Louise, who is currently studying for a Masters degree at the University of Wolverhampton.

She has incorporated text from the diary on to the glass which have been moulded into 'death masks'. Originally from Aston, Birmingham, Walter returned from the war to live in Broad Lane South, Wednesfield, working as a bricklayer. He died aged 76.

Louise, aged 23, is one of 19 of his great-grandchildren. She says: "If it wasn't for that watch in the top pocket of his uniform jacket I wouldn't be here. In fact, there are 45 people from four generations who wouldn't be here now."

After his lucky escape, Cpl Davis was injured in the leg and returned to England. He was married to Harriet Ann Betts, and they went on to have two children, nine grandchildren, 19 great-grandchildren and 15 great-great grandchildren. Louise decided to publish the book after becoming engrossed in his story while preparing for her degree in applied art.

The book, A Man At War: The Diary of Corporal Walter Davis, includes photographs, letters and postcards is available to buy

18 Challenge made on vetoed HS2 report

The Chronicle Thursday, April 17, 2014

A VETO blocking the release of a damning HS2 report is being legally challenged.

The Information Commissioner Christopher Graham says a report from the Major Projects Authority should be made public.

It comes after Transport Secretary and former Cannock miner Patrick McLoughlin used a veto previously deployed to stop publication of Iraq war papers.

Mr McLoughlin had overruled the Commissioner's decision to disclose the report under the Freedom of Information Act.

Mr Graham has decided on legal action and has written to Sir Alan Beith MP, chairman of the Justice Committee, saying he has decided to apply for judicial review.

He has told Sir Alan the information in the vetoed review 'is all environmental information', and his June 2013 decision notice requiring its disclosure was issued under the Environmental Information Regulations 2004.

HS2 is set to cut through 45-miles Staffordshire countryside. Demands are also being made by politicians in the county for the suppressed report to be made public. George Adamson, leader of Cannock Chase Council, is calling on the Transport Secretary to publish the report that the government has refused to release.

Councillor Adamson said: "How can we make a proper judgment on whether HS2 is right for this country or not if we are not allowed to have the full facts? This is a railway not national security."

Benefits

"Patrick McLoughlin is a Staffordshire lad and he is letting us down by preventing us from having the truth."

A Government spokesman said: "It's important to strike a balance between the benefits of transparency and protecting the ability of officials to 'speak truth to power'."

"The Government has decided that it is not in the public interest to release this report."

HS2 Ltd boss Sir David Higgins has proposed speeding up the building of the £50bn line through Staffordshire by six years.

Officers inspect a van at Longford island during the operation

Vehicles seized in crime crackdown

FOUR cars were seized during a crackdown on criminal activity during a multi-agency day of action.

In Cannock and Hednesford a total of 75 vehicles were pulled over in spot checks as part of the Let's Work Together operation that is also aimed at catching rogue traders in the act.

Around 20 Staffordshire Police officers were joined on the A5 Watling Street by a further 10 officers from the Environment Agency, Vehicle and Operator Services Agency (VoSA), the Department for Work and Pensions (DWP), Trading Standards, as well as Revenue and Customs.

In Cannock, 25 cars and goods vans were pulled over at Longford island.

Of these, one was issued with a VoSA warning notice and a dozen motorists were referred to the DWP.

Goods vans and cars were pulled over by officers checking loads, boots, number plates, tyres, fuel and driver documents to ensure motorists had vehicle insurance, and were legally on the road.

In Hednesford, 50 motorists were stopped in Keys Park Road, where one vehicle was seized and the driver was among eight people to be spoken to about suspected benefit offences.

VoSA also issued six prohibition notices to drivers with faulty tyres and other mechanical faults.

One driver had no insurance, one had no licence and another was issued with a fixed penalty ticket.

Cannock Police deputy commander Insp Paul Cooke said: "A number of vehicles were pulled over for document and also driving offences."

"Some had bald tyres. A number of people who were stopped will also be investigated by the DWP over concerns made about possible earnings and their benefit payments."

Man denies causing the death of bike rider

A DRIVER has denied causing the death of a motorcyclist after a crash in Cannock.

John Foster's Kia was involved in a collision in Cemetery Road that killed David Hall from Stafford on July 6, 2012.

Foster, aged 67, of Littleworth Road, Hednesford, pleaded not guilty to a charge of causing death by careless driving when he appeared at Stafford Crown Court.

Injuries

Mr Hall, who was 61, lived in Rowley Grove, Stafford and sustained serious injuries in the crash from which he later died.

Foster will appear at Stafford Crown Court again on September 29. He was released on bail.

Phone advice for patients

DOCTORS in Cannock Chase are advising the public to call the non-emergency 111 hotline for advice and treatment over Easter. Chairman of Cannock Chase Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) Dr Johnny McMahon said pressures were likely to increase on hospital services and particularly A&E, over the holiday period.

He said: "People often turn up at A&E or call 999 with illnesses and injuries that could be treated faster and more efficiently elsewhere and in doing so put extra pressure on emergency services at periods that are already busier than usual.

"By calling NHS 111 patients can access appropriate alternatives to A&E faster and contribute to relieving the pressure on hard-pressed hospital departments."

Marathon man Jack leaps to a record

IT took him 16 hours to complete but it was worth every painful bounce.

And now student Jack Sexty from Penkridge is a world record holder after finishing a marathon on a pogo stick.

The 24-year-old managed to raise just under £2,000 for Alzheimer's Research UK and the Royal Manchester Children's Hospital after his heroics at the Manchester Marathon on Sunday, April 6.

He said: "It took me 16 hours in the end. It was a nightmare. Every dent and pothole in the road was hard to get past."

Jack boinged into the early hours of the morning to complete the course.

"I finished at 1.30am," he said.

"I had great support from my team who walked the marathon with me.

"I've had £1,500 donated online and collected about £300 around the route.

Amazing

"I'm feeling a bit sore. I can barely get myself up. My hands and shoulders are sore. I don't think people should do marathons on a pogo. It's amazing to beat the world record."

Jack was allowed a break of up to five minutes for each hour bounced and had 30 seconds to get back on his stick if he fell off.

A camera crew filmed every leap for record verification purposes and volunteers were on hand with drinks, snacks and spare equipment.

Jack beat the previous record of 23 miles held by American James Roumeliotis in 2012. The Stafford-

Jack setting off on his pogo shire University student has now had his name added to the book of Guinness World Records.

It was the second pogo related challenge that Jack had undertaken.

Around 10 years ago he pogoed to school to raise money for Comic Relief.

Developers in plans for new homes scheme

NEARLY 400 new homes look set to be built in Burntwood.

Barratt Homes and Taylor Wimpey want to develop land off Milestone Way. The scheme includes between 370 and 380 houses and apartments.

The developers say plans will be submitted within the next few weeks and if permission is granted then building work will start in October.

More than 500 leaflets were handed out to homes in the area and the plans have gone on public display at the town's library.

Wynne Thomas, land director at Barratt Homes

West Midlands, said: "We are working together with housebuilder Taylor Wimpey to develop a site of 370 to 380 new homes on Milestone Way in Burntwood and will soon be submitting our detailed planning application to Lichfield District Council.

"Subject to planning approval, we anticipate construction will begin on a selection of two bedroom apartments and two, three and four bedroom homes in October this year.

"As well as a selection of high quality new homes this project will bring much-needed jobs and investment to the local economy."

Rail staff take hike to remember ex-colleague

COLLEAGUES of a train driver who died of cancer are preparing to walk more than 100 miles in her memory.

Jane Woods was 49 when she died last August after battling breast cancer which spread to her lungs and her brain.

Now five friends are set to walk the 103 miles from Birmingham New Street to Manchester Piccadilly Station where Jane worked.

Anna Stimpson, 35, a train manager from Penkridge, has organised the walk and said it will be even tougher because she recently underwent knee surgery.

She said: "Jane was such a lovely woman and she loved her job and was incredibly proud of the fact that she had worked her way up from platform staff to driver. I was so upset when she lost her battle with cancer that I just had to do something.

"There are five of us in total taking part in the walk who all work on the railway and it will be quite a challenge, especially as I have been told I will have to have further knee surgery."

Money raised from the six-day walk beginning on June 18, will go towards Beechwood Cancer Care Unit in Stockport which treated Jane.

Miss Stimpson has also been organising fundraising events at the Cross Keys in Filance Lane to boost funds.

Keen walkers will be able to join the group on the hike and track their progress on Twitter.

Miss Stimpson added: "While we are doing the walk, the Cross Keys will be holding a quiz night and a fireman will be auctioned off to the highest bidder."

Royal reward for St John volunteer

James Manley at Buckingham Palace

A St John Ambulance volunteer who fought to save the life of a car crash victim has been praised for his outstanding contribution to the charity.

James Manley, aged 21, who runs the Hednesford Cadet Unit, met HRH The Princess Royal, the St John Ambulance patron, at the charity's annual Young Achievers' Reception at Buckingham Palace. He was among more than 60 young people invited to the reception, which honoured the efforts of the Badgers, Cadets, and young carers.

James stopped on the M42 one Sunday morning when he saw a car on its roof up the embankment. He and another member of the public, who had called an ambulance, removed the driver from his car and administered CPR until paramedics arrived. However, they failed to revive him.

James said: "I know that by commencing CPR so quickly he had the best chances of survival. Meeting The Princess Royal was a wonderful experience."

James, who has volunteered more than 1,000 hours over the past three years, received the West Midlands Ambulance Service's chief officer's commendation for his efforts.

Wendy Human, director of charitable initiatives and training, said: "James has been an asset to his local community all year round."

School to increase its intake of pupils

A PRIMARY school in Cannock will take on more pupils to meet a growing demand for places.

Gorsemoor Primary in Gorsemoor Road, Heath Hayes, will increase its intake in September from 60 to 75. The school's request for extra places was given the go-ahead by Staffordshire County Council.

It follows a meeting last year arranged by Aidan Burley MP involving headteacher Paul Bennett and cabinet member for learning and skills Ben Adams.

The school is hoping to make the increased intake permanent and to be able to offer it year-on-year.

Demand

Mr Bennett said: "I am pleased that the school is now in a better position to respond to the demand for places from people living in the catchment area and from parents who already have children here."

Mr Burley said: "This decision to allow Gorsemoor to take on additional pupils is great news for parents in Cannock Chase.

"I know from my mailbox that Gorsemoor is a very popular and sought-after school and I am pleased the county council has recognised this demand and allowed them to take on additional pupils this year."

Dozens of new places are being created at primary schools in Staffordshire as part of a Government expansion programme to cope with rising pupil numbers. An £820 million cash pot is being shared out among schools across the country in areas where pressure on places due to rising populations is highest.

A total of 35 new places will be created at Sherbrook Primary School, in Brunswick Road, Cannock.

Pupil rolls across Staffordshire are expected to swell by 5,000 by 2014/15.

Real-life drama takes flight at holiday park

Monty the osprey takes a view of the five-star Morben Isaf holiday park. Courtesy Montgomery Wildlife Trust

HOLIDAY home owners on a five-star Park in mid-Wales have their own soap opera developing on their doorstep as the battle for nesting rights at the Dyfi Osprey Project heats up.

Families have been eagerly awaiting for the return of osprey pair Monty and Glesni. However, events took an unexpected turn as new arrivals Dai Dot and Blue 24 recently hijacked the nest.

Sarah Lewis, who along with husband Ben, manage Morben Isaf Holiday Home Park said: "Many of our homeowners love nature and have been waiting for Monty's return, but now there is much speculation as to what is going to happen, it is very exciting!"

She added: "We are lucky to have private footpath access to the Dyfi Osprey Project, especially since it's had so much coverage on the BBC Springwatch programme."

"Everyone on the park is optimistic about being so close to another season of osprey drama and the new Cors Dyfi Observatory. Who needs TV when there is real-life drama right on our doorstep?"

Morben Isaf is a beautifully kept five-star holiday park situated in the heart of the picturesque Dyfi Valley, but just 10 minutes from the sandy beaches of Cardigan Bay.

Owners on the park boast about the abundant wildlife that can be seen from the comfort of their holiday homes. The park also offers course fishing pools, a gymnasium, a children's play area and an on-site bird hide, which overlooks the estuary and is a popular retreat for many.

The park offers competitively priced holiday home ownership with prices for pre-owned, two-bedroom models starting at just £7,995. Touring and camping is also available at Morben Isaf.

Grounds fleet upgraded

A £250,000 fleet of new grounds maintenance equipment has been delivered to Cannock Chase Council. The lawnmowers are being used by the parks and open spaces team.

Culture and sports chief Christine Mitchell, said: "This investment in equipment represents the council's intention to maintain its parks and green spaces to the highest standards."

"It is clear that high quality, accessible and diverse green spaces improve the quality of life for all sectors of the community that use them."

MP loses his role as party vice chairman

OUTSPOKEN Conservative MP Michael Fabricant insisted he had done nothing wrong after losing his job as party vice chairman.

The MP for Lichfield was sacked after refusing to leave his post for welcoming the resignation of Culture Secretary Maria Miller and for opposing the controversial HS2 rail project.

The £50 billion rail scheme will cut through Staffordshire countryside, and Mr Fabricant had been campaigning for a rethink on the route. When the Government refused, he said he would vote against the legislation to create the line between London and Birmingham later this month.

But the final straw that resulted in his sacking came last Thursday (April 10) as Mrs Miller resigned following public condemnation of her expenses claims and her 32-second apology - with Mr Fabricant writing on Twitter: "Well, about time."

Michael Fabricant MP

Loyal

The 63-year-old broke news of his sacking via the social networking site and received a flood of praise and support.

Mr Fabricant, whose constituency includes Burntwood, said he was still loyal to the Conservative party and to David Cameron. Referring to his sacking as 'amicable', he said: "I was asked if I would resign but I do not feel I have done anything wrong."

"If I had resigned it would have suggested otherwise."

"I shall remain a Conservative MP and hope that my association will re-select me as its candidate for the General Election next year."

"I agree with most of my party's policies but I'm not a slavish follower of all of them. In particular HS2 will have a very serious effect on Lichfield.

"The straw that broke the camel's back may have been the Maria Miller issue, which was a sensitive subject for Number 10."

A Conservative Party source said the situation had been 'building for some time'.

"It was amicable," said the source. "Mr Fabricant is still a Conservative MP and has a lot of respect and admiration in the party."

He has tabled an amendment to alter the HS2 and that is not compatible with the position as a spokesman for the party."

Following the announcement Mr Fabricant changed the biography on his profile to read: "My views are strictly my own, not always the Government's."

Wiley back in the middle for charity match

FORMER Premiership referee Alan Wiley will officiate at a charity match on May 15.

The Burntwood official will take charge of the fundraiser on May 15 with former Villa, West Brom and Wolves manager Brian Little in the dugout.

Teachers will swap the classroom for the Villa Park pitch as Aldridge-based children's activity and sports coaching company, Sports Plus Scheme host the match in aid of Cruse Bereavement Care.

Neil Probert, deputy head at St Francis Catholic Primary, Sheffield, Alan Pearson, head of New Invention

Junior School, Willenhall, and The Bentley Federation's executive headteacher Rod Dickson, will join teachers from schools across the West Midlands.

Tickets are on sale at £1. The proceeds will help the charity to provide support, advice and information to children, young people and adults who have lost loved ones.

Sports Plus Scheme managing director, Andy Mulligan, said: "Through this match, we're hoping to raise money to help Cruse Bereavement Care continue its invaluable support to those who have suffered painful loss."

Sweet success for Easter on the cards

Owners Sara Batchelor and Melissa Osborne prepare for Easter at the Oh So Sweet confectionery store

AN Easter eggstravaganza was organised for a newly-opened sweet shop to herald the start of the holy season. The event at Oh So Sweet in Wardles Lane, Great Wyrley, was organised by owners Melissa Osborne and Sara Batchelor with the Easter bunny handing out sweets. There was also a colouring competition giving youngsters the chance to win a sweet hamper.

Mrs Batchelor, aged 43, said: "With the Easter holidays beginning it is the ideal time to come to the shop. This is our first Easter in business so we are both looking forward to it."

The two women from Heath Hayes became good friends because their daughters attend Five Ways Primary School together in Heath Hayes.

They opened the shop last November with help from Cannock Chase Council. Mrs Batchelor added: "Melissa had a candy cart that she used to hire out to people at weddings and parties and I was making wedding invitations and cards when we both decided to merge and open the shop. Not only does it sell sweets but we also have a gift section, balloons and a ferris wheel that people can fill with sweets and hire for events."

Long-term dealer has 28-month jail stretch

A DRUG-DEALER finally caught by the police has been jailed for 28 months.

Father-of-two Paul Hough, from Rugeley, claimed following his arrest in 2013 that he had been pushing drugs for the last 14 years and could make £200 a week, Stafford Crown Court heard.

Officers carried out a search raid on his home on July 16 and found skunk cannabis – a more potent variety of the drug – in various places around the house.

Mr Nicholas Cartwright, prosecuting, told the court that the street value of the cannabis totalled around £3,300.

There was also about £20 worth of cocaine which the defendant had for his own use, the court heard.

Messages

But Hough's mobile phone contained drug-deal text messages dating back to 2009 and he said he had been doing it for 14 years.

Hough was bailed by the police, who executed another search warrant at a house in Rugeley on August 7. In an outhouse was a locked safe which had £380 worth of Hough's skunk cannabis. The 34-year-old, of Swallow Close, admitted supplying cannabis between December 2009 and July last year, two charges of possessing cannabis with intent to supply, one of possessing cocaine and one of possessing two tablets of a class C drug.

Judge Mark Eades said: "You have been a long term dealer in cannabis. You have admitted to 14 years although the indictment covers four years. "You told the officers you could make a profit of up to £200 a week."

Miss Elizabeth Power, defending, said Hough accepted a significant amount of dealing over a long period.

MP supports tax cuts

THOUSANDS of people in Cannock Chase will benefit from tax cuts outlined in the Budget, claims Aidan Burley MP. The personal allowance will rise to £10,000, taking 200,000 more people out of paying income tax altogether.

Taxes will be cut even further next year when the personal allowance is set to rise again to £10,500. Mr Burley said: "This further tax cut is excellent news for hard-working people."

"These cuts mean 38,000 people in Cannock Chase are keeping more of the money they've worked hard to earn."

Tears of a mother at inquest on tragedy

THE mother of a Cannock man killed in the Hillsborough disaster broke down in tears as she told an inquest: "We will never be the same again."

David Birtle, aged 22, was one of 96 people killed in a crush at the 1989 FA Cup semi-final between Liverpool and Nottingham Forest.

The Liverpool fan had set off on the fateful journey to watch his team like thousands of others. But the day out, watching his beloved Reds would turn to tragedy.

At the inquest in Warrington his mother Jennifer Birtle told of how she was in Oman at the time he was caught up in the tragedy.

She remembered, while waiting for the flight home, overhearing British expats at the airport saying the police had claimed the trouble was caused by hooligans.

Disaster victim David Birtle

Missed

"It was as if that was OK then and that it was their own fault," she said.

During the heartfelt speech she said: "None of us will ever be the same again. We've all changed and not for the better I'm afraid."

"David was loved deeply by all his family and is missed every single day. We were robbed of a son, brother, grandson and now uncle."

Mrs Birtle told the inquest how David, who was three weeks short of his 23rd birthday when he died, had been obsessed with football since he was old enough to walk.

"Once he could run, there was always a football attached to his foot," she said.

"David did not get the chance to have a family but we know that he would have been a wonderful father."

Mrs Birtle told the jury that heartless thieves had even broken into her son's car parked near the stadium in Sheffield shortly after the disaster.

David was born in West Bromwich, but the family moved to Cannock when he was six-months-old. As a child he almost died from gastroenteritis.

At the time of his death, David was living with his father Jim Saunders at the Central pub in Cemetery Road, Cannock.

He had just passed his Heavy Goods Vehicle driving test, and had booked a day off to go to the match.

New inquests were ordered after the original verdict of accident death in 1991 were quashed in the high court in December 2012. They are expected to last for 12 months.

Donation for hospice well worth weight

A BURNWOOD woman who replaced her wardrobe - twice - after dropping six dress sizes has raised £3,000 for charity.

Town councillor Pamela Stokes handed over the cash to Lyn Shiels of St Giles Hospice after selling off all her unwanted clothes.

Mrs Stokes launched the initiative at her Slimming World group at St Joseph's Church more than three years ago, and after reaching targets of first £600, then £1,000 and £2,000, has now reached her latest goal.

Mrs Stokes, an All Saints ward councillor, said: "After losing a lot of weight after joining Slimming World, I had to replace my wardrobe twice.

"I gave away pounds worth of clothes, so had the idea of selling unwanted, 'outgrown' clothing within the three slimming world groups run by Maria Steed."

"I would like to thank not only the Slimming World members who have donated and purchased clothing, but also complete strangers who have contacted me."

"For me to continue, I need a constant supply of clothing, bags, shoes, so I am appealing for more donations."

Mrs Stokes is able to collect any donations. Call her on 07837 696206 to help.

CCHS head goes extra mile

COMMERCIAL FEATURE

BARRIE Scott has been headteacher of Cannock Chase High School (CCHS) since 2009, and the last five years have seen a significant rise in standards and progress for all students at the school.

Mr Scott said: "I am proud of the students, staff and governors here, we all believe that education is one of the most important things in life and that it provides access to great future prospects.

"The values that we hold dear are ones which are important to me too. They can be summed up in three short phrases:

- Mutual respect for each individual
- Pride in ourselves and our school

Headteacher Barrie Scott believes in a fully rounded education

● High standards of progress and behaviour for all

"I love being headteacher as it's a friendly, purposeful and caring school where we go the extra mile to ensure that every individual can flourish.

"I am always impressed by the amount of fundraising that our young people do for charity, often on their own initiative. I also value hugely the amount of extra-curricular trips and activities which are provided by the school.

"These things are an important part of giving our young people a rounded and rich experience of education which is not just limited to great examination results and good university places, but also develops each individual as a valued and valuable member of society.

The school received a letter from Ofsted recently which read 'You, your leadership team and your governing body have been successful in securing improvement in the quality of education provided by the school... you have raised the achievement of students at GCSE, AS and A-level. Your plans for the future demonstrate your continued drive to improve the opportunities for every student. Your ambition and strong leadership are key to Cannock Chase High School's success'.

Mr Scott added: "I will continue to be dedicated to CCHS and our ambition to provide the best all-round education in the area. As the academy for this community we value collaboration with other schools, our responsibility to the wider education system and our role as a place of excellence for the children and families of Cannock.

Fledgling academy grows in strength

COMMERCIAL FEATURE

IT'S almost three years since the governors gained academy status, and Erasmus Darwin Academy was born.

Since that time, the academy has enjoyed even greater academic success, ensuring it is among the highest performing schools in the county. However, the academy is about more than examination results.

Principal Bernice Astling is dedicated to developing 'the whole-child' and there are a wide range of opportunities for students to learn outside the classroom. Staff know that these are highly valued by our parents.

Perform

Mrs Astling said: "Just a few examples of what's on offer include a week of challenge and adventure at the Outward Bound Centre in Aberdovey; being one of the cast of more than 100 students who perform in our annual production; joining one of our choirs and bands; enjoying a theatre visit; playing in a sports team; following the Duke of Edinburgh Award scheme; skiing in Italy; visiting Paris or Strasbourg or even China.

"We are now even more popular with parents, who recognise that Erasmus Darwin Academy provides the highest quality, fully-rounded education for their child from 11-18 years.

"As a result, we are full in our current Year 7, and only a handful of places remain for the next cohort, who will join in September 2014. We are already being asked by parents of children currently in Year 5 if they can visit during the school day. To this end, we have organised a series of open mornings in the summer term to meet strong demand."

Parents able to attend one of these occasions will have a tour of the school, experience a taster lesson and meet the principal. Interested parties should contact the school soon as places are limited.

In the meantime, parents are invited to browse the website and gain a fuller picture of the academy, what it stands for, how it is organised and explore the many and varied achievements at www.erasmusdarwinacademy.co.uk

Students and staff are proud to be part of this inclusive learning community which is an orderly and pleasant place to study and work.

Relationships between students and staff are positive, and students feel able to approach staff about any problems, big or small.

FOCUS ON RUGELEY

Hide and seek out
nature at trust HQ

Willow artist Rachel Evans works on her creations
VISITORS to Staffordshire Wildlife Trust's HQ can get even closer to nature - thanks to a new feature opened in time for the Easter holidays.

A new bird hid has been unveiled in the grounds of the Wolsley Centre. It was opened last Friday, April 11 by trust's patron, Sir James Hawley, the former Lord Lieutenant of Staffordshire.

The wooden hide was built completely by trust volunteers and was funded by a £7,500 grant from the Biffa Award.

Annual Easter draw

TICKETS are on sale for the Rugeley Lions' annual Easter raffle. The draw will be made at the Wolsley Bridge Garden Centre on Saturday (April 19) from 4pm. Prizes include garden gift vouchers worth £50 and £25. See any Lions member or visit, Sweets 'n' Treats and the Three Wishes shops in the town centre.

Turbine is labelled a blot on landscape

A TOWERING wind turbine has sprung up in the countryside near Rugeley, with one resident labelling it a 'blot on the landscape'.

The 164ft turbine was installed in the space of a day near Blithbury Road, Hamstall Ridware.

Homeowners living nearby say the turbine, which is the first to be built in the area, is an eyesore and could pave the way for more in the future.

The turbine scheme was originally turned down by Lichfield District Council in July 2012 after widespread opposition from residents who had complained it would be an eyesore.

But applicant BJB Farming Ltd appealed the decision and permission was granted by the Planning Inspectorate last year.

Sprung

Villager Steve Derry said: "We weren't aware it was being installed and it seems to have sprung up out of nowhere. It's a blot on the landscape. We're worried more of these turbines could spring up."

A report from the Planning Inspectorate announcing the decision to allow for the turbine to be installed stated it would not spoil the area or be a danger to users of a nearby gliding club.

BJB Farming will use the turbine to generate electricity for its arable business in

The turbine that has gone up

Rugeley. The 500-kilowatt turbine is 3,937ft away from the nearest house.

Applicant Sindy Bostock said: "We're just happy that we're doing something positive for the environment."

"We put our planning application into Lichfield District Council in December 2011 and have gone through the full planning process resulting in permission being granted."

JOJO'S INTERIORS

JoJo's Interiors opened their doors back in September and are situated on the main A449, just outside Stafford in the beautiful medieval market town of Penkridge.

They specialise in French inspired, hand painted furniture and beautiful home interiors and gifts. Distressing wood furniture is a great way to add some character to your home and Vintage, antique, and worn-down furniture has a charm to it that new furniture often does not. This look inspires JoJo's Interiors owner Jo to take on commissions and breathe new life into your old tired pieces of furniture. Jo uses Annie Sloan paint and loves it that much that she has recently become a stockist for this exclusive brand. The ANNIE SLOAN look comes partly from the use and development of her own unique range of decorative paint, called CHALK PAINT®. Developed over 20 years ago, Chalk Paint® and Annie's techniques for painting and finishing do not follow the rules but allow you to work in an independent, intuitive and creative way.

To allow you to share in these wonderful techniques, JoJo's offer workshops, tailored to the customers needs, giving all budding interior designers the knowledge needed to create beautiful furniture which will transform your home. Tia is situated in the heart of the village and has the added advantage of two large windows for display, which are changed regularly and are constantly complimented upon.

Jan's aim was to provide that gift or card for every occasion in an environment that felt friendly and welcoming. Customers are invited to browse without any pressure, but help is always at hand when needed, something particularly male customers appreciate!

For the size of shop, Tia stocks a large range of products, from ladies fashion accessories, i.e. Handbags, Jewellery, Scarves and Watches, to Wedding, Baby and Christening gifts and Home Accessories, all at very competitive prices and with new products arriving weekly, there is always something different to see.

So whatever the occasion, why not pop along to the little gift shop with a difference, where you'll find that a friendly welcome awaits from Jan and Sue. We're sure that you won't be disappointed.

Pop Goes BBC Two (BBC2, 10.30pm)
Just because BBC Two is celebrating its 50th birthday this weekend, doesn't mean it isn't still down with the kids. In fact, as this one-off special reminds us, the channel has always been at the cutting edge when it comes to music – while BBC One was bringing us Top of the Pops, BBC Two was home to live performances and album tracks on the Old Grey Whistle Test. This programme looks at 50 of the most iconic moments to emerge from the channel's musical output, from John Lennon reciting poetry with Dudley Moore on Not Only But Also, to Beyoncé headlining at Glastonbury in 2011. Other highlights include Joy Division's final TV performance, and the Stone Roses being hit with a mid-song power shortage on The Late Show.

CHOICE

Billy Bob Thornton

Fargo (Channel 4, 9pm) What made the 1996 Oscar-winning movie Fargo such a success? The script and direction by the Coen Brothers, the plot, and the outstanding cast all deserve their due, but for some viewers, the snowy Minnesota setting, and the contrast between the homespun friendliness and sing-song accents of the locals and the unfolding horror, was also a big part of the appeal. And it's that ambience which carries over into this new TV series, which keeps the location and mix of humour and murder, but introduces a new story and a fresh set of characters – played by an equally impressive cast. Billy Bob Thornton stars as Lorne Malvo, a malicious drifter, who enters the life of smalltown insurance man Lester Nygaard (Martin Freeman).

Pick of the Week

Tommy finds himself caught in the middle

Could you see Shameless's Frank Gallagher as Tommy Cooper? Perhaps not, but David Threlfall has long had that chameleon-like ability to slip into any role, no matter how unlikely.

For a decade it seemed Threlfall was forever destined to play dole cheat Gallagher in Channel 4's hit drama. Thankfully over the last couple of years he has gone back to inhabiting a variety of real and fictional characters. Last year he was on top form as retired detective Len Harper in BBC drama What Remains. Now he's doing an uncanny take on Tommy Cooper in this drama paying tribute to the iconic magician and comedian who passed away 30 years ago this month.

It focuses largely on Cooper's relationships with two women – his wife Gwen (Amanda Redman) and Mary Kay (Helen McCrory), the assistant with whom he had a 17-year affair which only ended when he collapsed and died live on TV in 1984.

In the flesh, Threlfall is light years away from many of his more famous creations. There's none of the hammy am dram thespian he played in Hot Fuzz (a film he still hasn't seen), and his ability to morph into Cooper for this drama is remarkable.

"It's his story from '87 to the night he died inclusive, and I guess the back story of what he was doing publicly and some of his private life," explains David. "What's nice about it is it's a period piece, and it nods to the people of a certain age who knew Tommy Cooper and either really liked him or worshipped him because he was a completely special one-off."

At 15 stone, and standing six foot four, Cooper was a unique sight on any stage. Despite being a skilled magician, it was his failed tricks that brought the house down. But off stage, his love of booze and subsequent poor health took its toll.

David was well aware of how important it was to give a faithful performance: "People use the word 'genius' too much, but I think you can apply it to Tommy Cooper... so no pressure at all trying to portray that," he laughs. "But I had a go. So there's bits of his life at home and what he was all about, which was wanting to make people laugh." After making this drama, Threlfall was snapped up by Oscar-winning film-maker Kevin McDonald to work on submarine salvage drama Black Sea, which is released later in the year.

"I've sort of slipped back onto the variety bandwagon if you like," explains David. "I always like, if I can and people are willing to let me have a go, be pretty varied about the kind of work I get involved with, but I'm not one of these people that say, 'Well, I'm doing this now and I've got this lined up', and all that. There's no plans after I finish on Black Sea."

However, with a body of work including King Lear (with Laurence Olivier), and now one of the kings of British comedy, there's little chance of him settling for an early retirement just yet. "I've always been a working actor," he explains. "If a job comes up and people want me to have a go, that's what I do. 'If I can have a year where I can do What Remains, then Tommy Cooper, then a sub mariner in Black Sea, that's good and I'm happy and grateful for that."

Tommy Cooper: Not Like That, Like This, Monday, ITV, 9pm

Best of the Rest

MONDAY

24 Hours on Earth BBC1, 7pm

Finally, the nights are getting that little bit longer, the weather is – sort of – brightening up a bit – it's the strongest hint yet that summer is well on its way. And while we maybe shouldn't get too far ahead of ourselves and start mentally packing our suitcases for our summer holiday, for the time being we're being treated to another brilliant documentary from the Beeb, about how nature and animals deal with this time of the year. It tells how the changing position of the sun in the sky affects the behaviour of animals and plants across our planet. The animals are alert; from the moment the sun rises, they're waiting, ready to take advantage of all the opportunities that come with it.

Jamaica Inn BBC1, 9pm

It's Easter, so it should come as no surprise to find that the BBC is broadcasting a lavish costume drama. This time it's an adaptation of Daphne Du Maurier's novel Jamaica Inn, which stars former Downton Abbey resident Jessica Brown Findlay as Mary Yellan, who turns down a marriage proposal in favour of moving to Cornwall to live with her aunt Patience following her mother's death. Patience runs Jamaica Inn with her bullying husband Joss, a hard-drinking smuggler, just one of many locals who seems to live outside the law. Mary falls for his brother, Jem, but after witnessing a murder, has a tough decision to make about whether to report what she has seen.

TUESDAY

The Big Allotment Challenge BBC2, 8pm

Last week, Fern Britton kicked off The Big Allotment Challenge by introducing the nine pairs of gardeners whose skills were about to be put to the test. One duo fell by the wayside after failing to impress during flower-arranging and jam-making tasks, so when we catch up with the gang again, only eight pairs remain. This week, they have to grow the perfect runner beans and roses, then use their produce to create summer wreaths and relishes. But who will come out smelling of, erm, roses, and who will end up in a sticky spot? We'll find out after horticultural expert Jim Butters, floral designer Jonathan Moseley and food writer Thane Prince have offered their opinions on the contestants' efforts.

New Worlds

Channel 4, 9pm

If you're basing your knowledge of Charles II on Horrible Histories (and there are definitely worse places to get your information from), you may be under the impression that he was the king who brought back partying. But as this historical drama has shown, not all of his subjects felt like celebrating under his reign. In the final episode, there's definitely a revolutionary spirit in the air in America as Ned (Joe Dempsey) returns to Hope (Alice Englert), and tells her that he does want them to be together – but first they have to find a hiding place for Beth (Freya Mavor).

WEDNESDAY

Derek

Channel 4, 10pm

Viewers and critics were unsure of Derek when it was commissioned by Channel 4. Could Ricky Gervais, a comedian and writer who had made his name with The Office and Extras, pull off a gentle sitcom about a man who may have learning difficulties? But what Gervais has created is a moving story about a group of people living on the margins of society, with Derek the glue holding them together. The second run picks up a year after we last saw Derek and his friends. He's now fully reunited with his dad, who is moving into Broad Hill, the retirement home where Derek is a care worker. Tom and Hannah's relationship seems to have become serious, but a new volunteer is set to rock the boat...

Jamaica Inn, Monday, BBC1, 9pm

THURSDAY

Wanted: A Family of My Own

ITV, 9pm

Presenter Nicky Campbell is the perfect choice for helming this new four-part series about the life-changing process of adoption – because he was adopted himself as a baby. For the purpose of this at times emotional programme, cameras have followed parents desperate to adopt, and the children who need families – so that we can gain a rare insight into adoption in Britain today, and the impact it has on the lives of those involved. In this first instalment, we hear Nicky's story, before he meets Dan and Ania, who are desperate to adopt, and they receive information about two children needing a family.

FRIDAY

Weekend Escapes with Warwick Davis

ITV, 8pm

The actor takes his family to Norfolk, where they begin with a boat trip along the Broads, which are made up of more than 125 miles of waterways. Next, they cross the county to visit the seaside resort of Hunstanton, which gives Warwick the chance to participate in an RNLI training exercise. He then persuades his wife and children to have a go at milking sheep at nearby Bircham Windmill, before ending the weekend at a local amusement arcade.

The Trip to Italy

BBC2, 10pm

Steve's assistant Kate joins him and Rob in Rome, where they also meet up with photographer Yolanda before visiting the Keats-Shelley Memorial House museum. They go on to their next restaurant, where Emma has a bit of news for them, and Rob and Steve compete with each other doing Marlon Brando impressions.

Vauxhall Zafira's flexible triumph

By John Griffiths

Remember the days when flexibility in family transport meant you could (if you were strong enough) reconfigure your car by taking out the back seats?

Vauxhall took the first big step on the road to real versatility with its innovative Zafira and that car's sliding, fold-flat Flex7 seating.

Now there's another new kid on the block – The Zafira Tourer – which in a true sense is more of the same. It's longer, wider, better equipped and thanks to a massive investment in drivetrain technology is more economical and tax efficient.

Vauxhall calls the 1.6 CDTi its 'whisper' turbo diesel because it has been proven to be the quietest in its class. It's more economical, more powerful than the older 2.0 litre diesel used in flagship models.

The vital statistics are 136bhp, 320Nm of torque, to 60mph in 10.4 seconds and – outstanding for a vehicle of this size capable of carrying seven people – 68.9mpg and just 109g/km of CO2 emissions. As well as savings at the pumps and on road tax, Vauxhall estimates this will save a typical company car driver some £900 in benefit in kind tax over three years.

It is likely to be the most popular choice for Zafira Tourer buyers although there is a choice of four other diesels including a new 195PS, 2.0 litre biturbo version and two cheaper to buy petrol options.

The Zafira Tourer is longer and wider than the classic Zafira, with extra equipment and comforts contributing to a limousine-like feel to higher grade models.

The front seats have, say Vauxhall, the biggest range of adjustment in class. While the rear-most pair of seats still fold flat into the floor, it's the most commonly used passenger accommodation – the centre three seats – which have been radically redesigned.

Now there are three individually seats which can slide forwards and backwards or be reclined individually, as well as folding flat without the need to remove head restraints.

On higher grade models there's the 'lounge seating' option. Here the second row of seating transforms into two executive style armchairs, with further adjustment for legroom and uniquely, the ability to slide inwards for more shoulder room.

When you do this, the back of the folded down centre seat becomes a comfortable armrest.

Customising

The Zafira Tourer also gets Vauxhall's new 'FlexRail' storage system, for customising the space between the front seats, as well as some 30 other storage solutions around the cabin.

There's a lot more room there, as the Tourer has abandoned the mechanical handbrake for an electronic one with a switch on the dash.

The Tourer also gets the option of the FlexFix bike rack, which can carry up to four bikes but disappears into the rear bumper when not in use.

With five on board, the Tourer swallows 710 litres of luggage up to the window line, but if you have all five second and third row seats folded that more than doubles to 1,832 litres.

The new model's significantly longer wheelbase and wider track do impart more stability on the road, but other changes under the skin have contributed to improvements in handling, too.

New front and rear suspension systems are combined with new electric power steering which makes light working of parking while also giving you more 'feel' on the open road.

It saves fuel, too, compared to the previous system which fits in well with the efficient new engine and the 'stop/start' technology which comes with it.

While not wanting to bore you with all the details, the redesign has produced some aesthetic as well as technical advantages.

On the road the Tourer belies its size: it doesn't feel as if you're driving a bigger, heavier vehicle and is as nimble as a family hatchback. It's quiet too: the 1.6 turbo diesel is as unobtrusive as some similar-sized petrol units with perhaps the only obvious sound that of wind over the necessary large door mirrors.

The new engine is available in models in the top three trim levels – from £23,175 for the TechLine to £26,795 for the flagship SE.

Among the features are six airbags an electronic stability programme, and CD/radio.

Great deals on Motability for spring and summer

By John Griffiths

Local Hyundai main dealer, Sandon Road Motors, is in an enviable position to offer outstanding Motability deals this spring and summer, with the support of Hyundai, one of the world's fast-rising motor manufacturers.

There are some particularly strong offers on Hyundai's very latest models. Indeed, much of the Hyundai range is currently being offered with nil advanced payment, while other models have low advanced payments which will prove very attractive.

The new generation Hyundai i10 city car, which has only just been released in the UK, is already being offered for nil advanced payment. And that includes diesel and petrol models, with either manual or automatic transmission.

With its excellent economy, ultra-low CO2 emissions and outstanding driving experience, the new i10 has received much praise from the motoring press. It's considered 'best in class'. With smart styling, plenty of space inside, strong equipment levels and a focus on refinement, it's performing strongly in its city car sector, especially with combined fuel economy of 64mpg and low CO2 emissions starting at 98g/km.

Then there's the roomy Hyundai iX20, a popular compact urban MPV with plenty of internal space and great flexibility for the family and lots of boot room. Proving ideal for many Motability customers, various versions of this model are also available for nil advanced payment.

Just as you thought it couldn't really get much better, Hyundai is now offering the excellent iX35 compact SUV crossover with an advanced payment from only £299. This too includes diesel and petrol-powered versions. That's excellent value for a car capable of offering four-wheel drive and large amounts of space. What's more, its higher ride height makes it much easier to enter and exit for many Motability customers.

Astounding

While all Hyundais provide exceptional motoring, the new generation iX35 is a truly astounding vehicle.

Available in two-wheel drive and 4x4 formats, the ix35 is one of the top-selling crossover vehicles in the UK and Hyundai's is consolidating that position with this new generation car. With updated styling, even more generous equipment levels and improved steering, sales have been rising strongly.

It looks reassuringly expensive, the 591-litre boot is around 200 litres bigger than what you'd get with its nearest rival and there's that fantastic warranty.

It's not expensive to run and scores very well in reliability surveys, as do all Hyundai vehicles. It really doesn't need to be any more complicated than that. Build an attractive product and it'll appeal, particularly to Motability customers as the ix35 petrol and diesel ranges can be obtained with an advance from as little as £299, while advance payments for 4WD and automatic models start at £1,999 and £2,799 respectively.

Hyundai once again demonstrates that keeping things simple pays dividends. To see the ix35 and the rest of the superbly-made Hyundai range, why not visit the experienced Motability accredited specialists at your local Hyundai main dealer, Sandon Road Motors in Stafford.

Director Bob Gasch says: "All recent Hyundais have attained very successful product launches, but with the ix35 we enjoyed massive success.

"Our experienced Motability specialists will be delighted to assist you with your inquiry. So why not visit us here at Sandon Road Motors on the Astonfields Industrial Estate, Astonfields Road, Stafford ST16 3UF? You can expect a warm welcome. Call 01785 248899 to arrange an appointment and to find out more about our fantastic Motability deals for this spring and summer."

Fiat's 500L MPV with big attitude although no big beauty

By David Banner

The Fiat 500L MPV might not be the prettiest compact MPV you can buy and the association with the 500 city car might be being stretched to snapping point, but it's one of the cleverest.

With a great range of engines, a practical interior and aggressive pricing, it's better than it looks at first. It's well worth persevering with.

We need to get off on the right foot with this vehicle. In my opinion, the only way to do that is to ignore the '500' part of the name and consider this the Fiat MPV. As an extension of the 500 brand, it's a non-starter and will only draw negative comment.

As a functional and affordable compact MPV it has a lot going for it. So let that be the last word said on this car's link to the cheeky Cinquecento and let's instead judge this car solely on its ability to compete with the likes of the Kia Carens and other budget compact MPV models.

It's a market that Fiat has neglected ever since the Multipla got a bit past it. That car was an object lesson in brilliant product design that alienated a large slice of its target market by dint of its extreme styling.

The 500L MPV isn't as divisive in that regard, but don't for one minute be fooled into thinking this thing is entirely cookie-cutter conventional.

Choice

The MPV is a fairly hefty piece of kit, although you probably wouldn't guess at that given the engine choice on offer. Opening proceedings is a 93bhp 1.4-litre petrol while there's also a version of the revolutionary two-cylinder TwinAir engine, in this case generating 104bhp, 20bhp up on the 500.

Diesel customers are catered for with a good 1.3-litre MultiJet with 84bhp. This will make 60mph from standstill in 14.6 seconds, which sounds positively glacial but there's a decent slug of torque on offer.

Should you need to make progress with a little more alacrity, you can opt instead for a 104bhp 1.6 MultiJet fitted with an automatic transmission.

Yes, it is the most expensive car in the range but it's also comfortably the nicest.

Fiat would have you believe that the MPV has "the agility of a city car" which as I'm sure you'll appreciate is hogwash. Nothing that is 435cm long has the agility of a city car.

The cabin can nominally seat seven, but it's best to think of it as an occasional '5 + 2-seater' MPV. Fiat quotes a luggage volume of 638-litres but that's with the two rear seats folded.

The range includes two trim levels (Pop Star and Lounge), both with five or seven seats, 19 body colours (including 11 two-tone combinations) and six interior trims, 15 different types in terms of alloy wheels and hub caps: in total, no fewer than 282 combinations are possible.

The Power to Surprise

Ford's Kuga range gets a big boost

By John Griffiths

Ford's stylish and eye-catching Titanium X Sport series has joined the new Kuga range to offer the highest specified Ford SUV available, with the following styling, luxury and technology features as standard:

Body styling kit including body colour front, side and rear skirts, spoiler, wheel arches and door claddings. Kit also adds lower centre silver skid plate and rear diffuser.

There is also 19in 5x2-spoke alloy wheels, Sony DAB audio with satellite navigation, rear view camera, Active Park Assist for semi-automated parallel parking, silver roof rails, privacy glass, power fold mirrors.

The new all-wheel-drive Kuga Titanium X Sport, priced at £28,345, inherits an impressive list of other standard equipment such as opening panorama roof, heated front Torino leather seats and 10-way powered driver's seat.

The introduction of a Kuga Titanium X Sport, with 1.6 Eco-Boost petrol (150/182PS) or 2.0 TDCi diesel (140/163PS) engines, was prompted by high demand for the Titanium series, which accounted for 80 per cent of sales.

Styling

The new Kuga, which arrived in dealerships a year ago, has sent sales soaring by over 40 per cent since March 2013 compared with the 12 months prior.

Among its styling, safety and convenience options is Ford Kuga's hands-free tailgate, the first to be offered on a medium-sized SUV in Europe.

The £350 option on Kuga Titanium X Sport and Titanium X, which includes keyless opening, enables customers to open the boot without using their hands, but by a gentle kicking motion under the rear bumper.

The innovation was chosen by more than one in five of all Ford Kuga buyers in Britain last year and has already been added to over 56 per cent of early Titanium X Sport orders in the UK.

"Everyone has approached their car with their hands full and wished there was some magical way of opening the boot without having to put the load down first," said Mark Ovenden, chairman and managing director, Ford of Britain.

"Our hands-free tailgate is an ingenious solution and one tailored for new top-end Ford Kuga customers."

The new Kuga spearheads Ford's SUV range which also includes the small EcoSport SUV, on sale now, and will later include the upscale Edge.

Visitors on road to win with early try

Wednesbury 10
Burntwood 16

BURNTWOOD came away with the victory after Wednesbury's bad luck continued.

They had already lost four players from last week's team and then after only 10 minutes Chris Kinsella suffered a broken wrist.

The early exchanges were even with both sides missing penalties.

Burntwood were first to score with a converted try after 14 minutes. The home side soon hit back. They were awarded a scrum 15 metres from the Burntwood line and drove the visitors backwards over their own line Kevin Ferris grounding the ball for an unconverted try.

The visitors increased their lead on 13 minutes with a penalty and went in at half time 10-5 up.

Five minutes into the second half they converted another one. Wednesbury were awarded a penalty just inside the Burntwood half. Tom Huggins took a quick tap and scored an unconverted try.

Wednesbury had a try disallowed before Burntwood kicked another penalty. For the last 10 minutes Wednesbury kept Burntwood pegged in their own half but the defence held firm.

Player of year puts side through

Nick Bandurak – scorer of Cannock goals

IT may be the end of the league season but Cannock Hockey Club's cup sides still have games to play.

On Sunday it was the turn of the mixed side who faced Leicester in the last 16 of the EH Mixed Cup.

As holders of the cup, Cannock were expecting to make progress but with Leicester having a number of National League and International women they knew it would be a tough game.

Cannock made a slow start and Leicester took the first honours after captain Andy Hodgetts decided to play football on the penalty spot to give away a penalty corner.

This was well taken by Leicester, who slotted a goal passed the outstretched arm of keeper Ollie Balcombe.

Cannock's ladies, fresh from their end-of-season bash the night before, started to focus on the game.

As the half progressed Cannock began to find a route to goal.

Eventually, Chris Darnley won a corner, which was flicked into the goal by England Under 21 and Cannock's Young Player of the Year, Nick Bandurak, to even the score.

Cannock had several further attempts on goal but were denied by the helmet of the Leicester keeper.

Shannon Deakin, Zulie Gray and Sarah Martin worked hard to close the opposition defence down and eventually pressured another penalty corner.

Bandurak stepped up to the plate once more and duly delivered, to produce the winner.

Cannock now wait to see who they will

Up! Now Wolves want to have title

WOLVES boss Kenny Jackett targeted the Premier League after sealing promotion – as Dave Edwards urged them to top 100 points and win the League One title.

The Molineux men are back in the Championship after Saturday's 2-0 win at Crewe put the leaders 13 points clear of third-placed Leyton Orient with four games left.

Jackett's side still need seven points to mathematically be sure of the title after they opened up a six-point gap on second-placed Brentford, who lost on Saturday.

Wolves could seal the deal on Easter Monday with a point at Leyton Orient, should they beat Rotherham on Good Friday and Brentford lose.

Head coach Jackett hid his delight at securing his No.1 target but warned his side have a tough task to get out of the Championship.

"We're delighted to be back in the Championship and we're all really looking forward to it," he said.

"We're trying hard to get back in the Premier League and we're not underestimating the size of that task. It's going to be hard because I believe the Championship is the fourth-biggest league in Europe."

Chaddesley Corbett 7 Rugeley 1st 57 RUGELEY 1sts travelled to Worcestershire with hopes of continuing the recent good run of high-scoring games in the Midlands 5 North West League

From the offset the visitors looked as they meant to carry on, with a try from Kurt Cameron and conversion from Jordan Wood within five minutes of the start.

With the scoreline at seven points to the visitors' favour the home side pushed but the visiting pack absorbed the pressure with ease.

David Bagnall was able to clear with a superb kick into the arms of Luke Pagett resulting in a second try, the score line 0-14 within 12 minutes.

Control

Rugeley continued to take control and at the 30-minute mark Matt Joss was able to break free and score what turned out to be the try of the day, increasing the pressure on the home side. The home side with all the best will in the world could not penetrate the visiting defence, resulting in mistakes being made. With only three minutes left of the first period the score was up to 0-26.

Although the half time whistle was about to sound Rugeley continued to relentlessly push at the home side with a try and conversion from Jordan Wood the score stood at 0-33.

With 10 minutes on the clock in the second half Matt Joss scored his second try of the day increasing the visitors' score further to 0-40.

From the scrum super sub

Rugby

Cei Griffin was able to score with a minute of entering the field of play. With a lack of concentration for the kicker and the missed conversion the score line stood at 0-45 with only 10 minutes of the game to play.

Rugeley upped their play once again and the home side just could not stop the onslaught with a great run from the visiting captain Nathan Homer able to make inroads run towards the try line and with unflinching support from Michael Wilkes a further five points was added to Rugeley's score card with less than seven minutes left to play.

From the restart Chaddesley pushed forward and the home side were able to score a consolation try and seven points.

With only two minutes left to play the score stood at 7-50, but Rugeley were not finished yet and with a last run for the try line by Luke Paggett and the conversion from Jordan Wood the game ended Chaddesley Corbett 7 & Rugeley 1sts 57.

Even though the score line seems to say one thing the home side actually gave Rugeley a good game.

Cup victory for young side in debut season

The talented young players of Talbot FC who are Cannock Chase Football League Division 2 Cup winners

TALBOT FC lifted the 10th Ron Brindley Cup in the Division 2 final of the Chase League after beating league leaders Victoria 1-0 with a goal from Adam Langley.

This Heath Hayes team, with an average age of 21, are in their first season in the league. Both teams are neck and neck for the title and will meet again in another cup final.

Fired-up Hayes' first win on road

Shepshed 0 Heath Hayes 1

A GALLANT Hayes side recorded their first away victory of the season to lift them out of the Midland Alliance relegation places.

The win was even more impressive given that they had to make six changes from the side that beat Westfields 3-1 days earlier.

Fired-up Hayes went for it from the off forcing a couple of early corners, from one of which Adam Robinson struck a post and Harry Phillips was inches wide from the rebound.

On 10 minutes Liam Degville put over a deep cross and this time Phillips' first time volley flew into the roof of the net.

This was just the boost the visitors needed as they chased and harried their opponents, not giving them any time to settle on the ball.

Dynamo did come more into the game as the half wore on but the visiting defence coped well and an attack, which had scored 12 goals in the last three games, proved wasteful.

Steve Chaplin had a glorious chance to equalise on the hour when he seized on a poor throw out by Ryan Goodwin but blazed wide.

Andrew Davis could have wrapped the game up for the visitors but his effort lacked power and was scrambled clear.

Smith happy with potential

DEAN Smith has insisted Walsall have made progress this season no matter how they finish.

A run of just two wins from the last 14 league games has ruined the Saddlers' hopes of finishing in the play-offs. Smith's men can only match last season's total of 68 points if they win all four final league games.

He acknowledges the task was made tougher by the departures of key trio Jamie Paterson, Will Grigg and Febian Brandy. "We have definitely made progress," said Smith. "It was always going to be hard to replace the goals that we lost at the end of last season. But I think we have shown unbelievable potential."

"Losing that many goals is always going to be hard to replace but as a team I think we've been more competitive than we were last season."

Superb start – but it's all in vain for Scholars

A fine save by debutant John Bateman

Sheffield FC 2 Chasetown 1

CHASETOWN slipped to 12th place in Evo-Stik Division One South after making a superb start.

Jack Lees and Lee Butler were looking lively and forced a disrupted Sheffield defence onto the back foot.

It was no surprise when the Scholars went ahead in the 17th minute. Joe Halsall received the ball and advanced through a static Sheffield back four and when stand-in goalkeeper Matt Roney – normally a right-winger – stayed rooted to his line, Halsall had the simplest job to roll the ball square to Nick Wellecome. He couldn't miss for his 16th goal of the campaign.

The hosts gradually got themselves back into the game and went close to an equaliser just after the half-hour. Ben Algar's cross from the left was met by a close-range header from former Scholar Joel Purkiss but debutant keeper John Bateman pulled off a brilliant point-blank save.

Two minutes before the break, a Purkiss free-kick found the top corner of the net. Sheffield were out of the traps faster in the second half and took the lead within two minutes, Steve Woolley netting at the second attempt.

Chasetown's best chance to restore parity came with 20 minutes left as Wellecome failed to connect with Jack Farmer's cross along the six-yard box.

The Scholars have just three league games remaining – Rainworth at home on Saturday, Romulus away on Easter Monday at 1pm and title-chasing Coalville at home on the final day of the season – ahead of the Walsall Senior Cup final against Rushall Olympic at Banks's Stadium on May 12.

ROARING LIONS TAMED BY PITMEN

Hednesford Town 3 Guiseley 2

HEDNESFORD Town endured a nightmare start to a crunch Skrill North match between fourth and fifth.

Guiseley stormed into a two-goal lead within 16 minutes but The Pitmen showed immense character to turn the tide, hugely increasing their chance of a play-off spot in the process.

Guiseley went into the game on the back of a 14-match unbeaten run and started with real purpose as Adam Boyes and Alex Johnson gave the Hednesford defence a real headache.

The score should already have been 1-0 by the time the away side opened the scoring as Dan Crane, a hero against Gainsborough last week, denied Johnson with a strong save at the striker's feet.

Rocked

Crane could do nothing on 12 minutes though as Gavin Rothery sent in a pinpoint pass from the right wing and Johnson slotted home from three yards out.

The Pitmen were rocked by the opening goal and the second for The Lions came within four minutes as Johnson outpaced Paul McCone, only to see Crane pull off another outstanding save, but the loose ball fell invitingly to Adam Boyes who rifled his shot, left footed on the volley, into the net from 18 yards.

The game looked to be up for the home side but a strongly-won header by Danny Glover opened up the Guiseley defence for Tom Thorley to run at and the all action midfielder swept the ball past Steven Drench into the corner to make the score 2-1 inside 19 minutes.

On the half-hour mark the Hednesford fans rejoiced when a ball into the box was tapped in by McCone two yards out to level the scores.

Just four minutes later Keys Park erupted when a long throw by Ben Bailey wasn't dealt with by the Guiseley defence and Glover was able to finish at the back post to make it 3-2.

In a tetchy patch the referee booked no less than five players before the half time whistle but it was in the second half when Hednesford's hitherto unsafe defence performed admirably and formed the bedrock of a rousing backs to the wall effort alongside man of the match Dave Macpherson and Thorley in midfield, which totally limited Guiseley's chances on goal.

With Hednesford midfielder Kris Taylor making an emotional return to football after a two month lay-off fighting testicular cancer, Keys Park rose to salute a team who were unfancied outsiders but now have their destiny in their own hands.

Lambs silence their cup rivals

Tamworth 5 Hednesford Town 2
HEDNESFORD Town relinquished their Birmingham Senior Cup title to local rivals Tamworth in their semi-final on Tuesday.

The Lambs looked far stronger in the second half with Ben Richards-Everson in defence and Kevin Thornton in midfield particularly impressive.

Hednesford started the better and took the lead when Marvin Johnson floated in a left-footed free kick and Francino Francis was given the freedom of the area to powerfully head home on nine minutes.

Charlie Anagho-Ntamark almost doubled Hednesford's lead on 23 minutes with a volley just wide after a flowing passing move by the visitors and Johnson tested the goalkeeper.

Jack Evans's free kick from 20 yards was saved at full stretch by Crane as Tamworth began to come back into the game and on 44 minutes Francis conceded a penalty with a high foot on Jessy Reindorf and Thornton confidently converted.

Tamworth took the lead through Reindorf 60 seconds after the restart. The Pitmen equalised through a John Disney penalty on 50 minutes but the full back was hesitant shortly afterwards and Kayne Woolery restored the home side's lead with ease just four minutes later.

Despite bringing on Michael Lennon, Kris Taylor and Marvin Robinson, The Pitmen were not able to gain any real foothold and Tamworth saw out victory with a goal each from Thornton and Batis-Cande.

Pics get into final late goal

Walsall Senior Cup Semi-final

Walsall Wood 0 Rushall Olympic 1

RUSHALL will face Chasetown at Bescot in the final, courtesy of a goal two minutes from time from substitute Carl Ashton.

But the Evo Stik Premier play-off hopefuls were perhaps fortunate Wood did not at least take the tie into extra time, as overall they played by far the better football.

It was all the Pics at the start with Dele Adebola seemingly involved in almost everything but it was Wood who nearly went ahead on 13 minutes.

Both teams had chances to score in either half but shots were either off target or saved by the keepers.

It was not until the 8 minutes Adebola took the ball out to the left, turned back inside and found substitute Ashton.

His low effort appeared to deflect off a defender and Gill, having to change direction, was fractions away as the ball went just inside his right hand post, to deny Wood the extra 30 minutes their battling performance had deserved.

Skaters take to exhibition

A GROUP of Cannock girls donned their skates for a show dance exhibition at the Blackpool Ice Festival.

Coached by Tash Fennell-Owen at Silver Blades, one team performed to Torvill and Dean's Bolero, the others to Jai Ho.

They enjoyed the experience but the level of technical ability proved too much.
